Neither Side Shows Signs of Withdrawing From Positions

By CONRAD FINK
NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The outlook for the India-Pakistan cease-fire remained bleak today as both sides made new demands and neither showed any sign of withdrawing from positions seized during their undeclared war.

A spokesman for the Indian Foreign Office said the withdrawal of armed personnel should include an estimated 3,000 guerrillas the Indians claim Pakistan trained, equipped and sent into the Indian sector of Kashmir for subversion and sabotage.

Pakistan has denied the Indian claim, contending that the guerrillas whose operations touched off the war are Kashmiri nationalists fighting for freedom from Indian control.

Home Rule Bill In Amendment Stage in House

Backers Confident They Can Put Over Compromise Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The District of Columbia home rule bill enters the crucial amendment stage in the House today, with its backers still confident they can put over a bipartisan compromise.

But the pending business of the House is a substitute offered by Rep. B. F. Sisk, D-Calif., calling for a referendum to see if District residents want home rule, and then an election of a board to work out a city charter.

There was a possibility that other amendments would be disposed of too. More than 20 of them were lying on the speaker's table when the House adjourned Tuesday night.

Complete Debate
The House completed two days of general debate late Tuesday. Several opponents said it was unfair to label them anti-civil rights or anti-Negro when they opposed home rule on constitutional grounds. Washington is more than 50 per cent Negro.

Under Sisk's plan, the charter board would have seven months to map out the kind of government the city should have, and would have $300,000 to hire experts on municipal government. Then the charter would be submitted to the voters, and finally to Congress.

Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., opposed the Sisk proposal on the ground that Washington residents have overwhelmingly approved home rule in previous referenda. The capital now is governed by Congress and a three-man commission appointed by the President.

Payroll Tax Savings Seen in Wisconsin

MADISON (AP) — The State Industrial Commission said today that Wisconsin employers will save about $4 million in payroll taxes for unemployment compensation in 1966.

Commission chairman Joseph Fagan said the solvency contribution rate was high enough in July to set up the reduction. The solvency contribution is made by all employers to finance firms with overdrawn unemployment compensation funds.

"These savings will help offset the higher basic contributions due in 1966 under the law's new $3,600 wage base, to be raised from the 1965 base of $3,000," Fagan said.

Relatively low unemployment rates contributed to the reduction.

Allies Drive Off Advance of Big Guerrilla Force

2,000 Viet Cong Estimated in U. S., Viet Nam Action

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A U. S. spokesman announced today that South Vietnamese forces and U.S. planes beat off an attack by one of the largest Viet Cong concentrations in several months, possibly more than 2,000 guerrillas.

The spokesman said no further fighting was reported today in the area 45 miles northwest of Qui Nhon and 295 miles northeast of Saigon.

The government force of two battalions suffered moderate losses and many Viet Cong were believed to have been killed by U.S. air strikes, the spokesman said, but no body count was made.

The action took place in the area of Phu Cu Pass, where the Viet Cong suffered heavy losses in a battle last week.

Red Attack
Two Communist battalions launched a two-pronged attack Tuesday against the Vietnamese troops from the east and west while two other battalions struck from the southwest.

U.S. intelligence sources have said the Viet Cong have begun a buildup in Binh Dinh Province, in which Qui Nhon is located. Top Vietnamese military officers said earlier in the week they believed that North Vietnamese troops are operating in the province.

U.S. paratroopers ended the longest operation of the war involving American troops Tuesday night in the dense D Zone brush and jungles near Ben Cat, 30 miles north of Saigon.

Vietnamese, New Zealand and Australian contingents also took part in the two-week sweep, which sought to wrest the initiative from the Viet Cong.

Debbie Stalls; Appears to Lose Most Muscle

Tropical Storm Stops Short of Florida Gulf Coast

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Tropical storm Debbie stalled just short of slamming into the Gulf Coast of Florida and Alabama today and forecasters said the storm appeared to be losing power.

In a 5 a.m. (EST) advisory, the Weather Bureau said the storm probably would remain stationary about 115 miles south-southwest of Mobile, Ala., for the next 6 to 12 hours while weakening slowly.

"Most warnings will probably be lowered later today," the advisory said.

However, squalls, winds and rains generated by the storm raked hundreds of miles of Florida Panhandle coastline. Wind-whipped tides are pounding surges into the beaches.

Head Inland
From the mouth of the Mississippi River to Panama City, Fla., hundreds of people on low-lying islands and beaches sandbagged disappearing foundations or else gave up and went inland.

Many of them were still suffering from the pounding of Hurricane Betsy just two weeks ago. In Louisiana's St. Bernard Parish, people who had returned to their wrecked homesites only a day or so ago had to flee to high ground.

But thousands of others — particularly in the Florida Panhandle which has plenty of squally weather — were contemptuous of Debbie's top winds of 35 to 50 miles an hour. They elected to ride it out at the edge of the Gulf of Mexico despite predictions of tides up to six feet.

"Debbie is a fink," said a young man at a "hurricane party" just 30 feet from the beach at Panama City.

Fresh Water
Mrs. Ilbert Brayshaw calmly ironed her family wash while Debbie's misty winds whistled through holes left in her living room wall by Hurricane Betsy.

Fresh water to those who decided to remain on Santa Rosa Island, just across the bay from Pensacola, was cut when a 65-foot fishing boat was smashed against the water pipe.

However, about 900 persons had already left for the mainland, and two emergency towers

Housing, Transportation Down

Drop in Food Prices Lowers Living Costs During August

WASHINGTON (AP) — A drop in food prices cut living costs two-tenths of one per cent in August — the biggest decline in nearly three years, the Labor Department said today.

Housing and transportation costs also showed slight declines, but clothing and medical care went up.

The two-tenths of one per cent drop in the government's consumer price index brought it down to 110.0 per cent of its 1957-59 average.

This means that typical family consumer items that cost $10 in 1957-59 cost $11 in August.

The drop in living costs was the first downward move since August of last year.

In August 1964 the index was 108.2. Thus the index rise for the 12 months was 1.8 points.

The last decline in the index as large as two-tenths of one per cent was in December 1962.

Arnold Chase, assistant commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said the approximately one per cent drop in food prices last month was a decline in prices for many items.

Will Clear Up Guevara Mystery

Castro Promises to Allow Cubans To Leave with 'No Risk From Us'

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro says any Cubans with relatives in the United States can leave the island after Oct. 10. He also promised to clear up the mystery of Maj. Ernesto Guevara in a few days.

Castro said in a speech Tuesday night he would provide boats to take would-be refugees out of the country and promised: "They will undergo no risk (from us)." He blamed "the imperialists" for his term for the United States, saying he would set up port facilities at Camarioca, in Matanzas Province, and ship out those who wanted to leave, "not small boats, many of them drowning," Castro said, "and the (the Americans) use this as propaganda."

Arrange Pickup
He indicated he expected friends and refugees of the relatives to arrange for them to be picked up a certain distance from Cuba but did not spell this out.

Castro spoke to a mass rally celebrating the fifth anniversary of the Revolution, his regime's organization of neighborhood spies which includes more than a fourth of the population.

Havana's Revolutionary Plaza was packed for the prime minister's appearance.

Castro said the status of "our comrade" Guevara would be explained in the next few days when the Communist party's National Directorate meets. He said he would read a document then "which explains Guevara's absence these many months."

Guevara was an architect of Castro's revolution and the regime's industries minister. The absence of the Argentine-born guerrilla leader from public view since last spring has sparked numerous conflicting rumors of his whereabouts.

No Estimate Made by Authorities

TAGAYTAY, Philippines (AP) — The first rescue workers reached the blackened shores of the Taal volcano today and reported "a wide expanse of death and destruction."

There was no immediate casualty estimate from the first to land on the 12-square-mile island in Lake Taal where the volcano erupted at 2:30 a.m. Tuesday. Officials feared a heavy toll among the island's 2,000 inhabitants and in villages along the lakeshore 5 to 10 miles from the island.

The party on the island reported the 984-foot volcano had subsided to occasional rumbles and belches of smoke. The local military commander ordered the evacuation of all persons from low areas around Lake Taal as a precaution against another eruption and an accompanying tidal wave.

134 Bodies
The Red Cross reported 134 bodies recovered on the mainland, 104 of them in the lakeside town of Agoncillo. Many were killed by the great chunks of rock the volcano hurled through the air. Some were enveloped in hot ash and mud and died of burns. The Red Cross said many appeared to have died from fear and shock.

The rescue group on the island reported thigh-deep volcanic mud, with two villages completely submerged in debris. The party said half the island appeared covered with the volcanic mud that rained for eight hours or more after the first eruption.

Survivors who escaped across the lake during the eruption told of a rain of boulders that capsized frail fishing boats in which the island's farm families fled.

Frogmen Search
Frogmen began a search for bodies in the lake, parts of it 600 feet deep. The once clear waters were murky with volcanic ash.

The Red Cross reported 55,000 persons huddled in evacuation camps or along the roadsides. Most had fled from homes around the lake.

Before the eruption, the volcanic island 40 miles south of Manila was a garden spot of meadows, grain fields, thriving farm villages and neat schools.

Paper Strike Talks Recessed

NEW YORK (AP) — An all-night negotiating session between the Mailers Union and the Publishers Association of New York came close to agreement on job security, mediator Theodore W. Kheel reported today.

Kheel recessed the talks until Thursday morning.

He said "one knotty item" remained to be worked out on the job security issue, which centers on protection for union members classified as extras.

There was no report of progress in the dispute that started the blackout — The strike by the AFL-CIO New York Newspaper Guild against the New York Times. Times-Guild negotiations recessed Tuesday night until this afternoon.

The Guild struck the Times Sept. 16 over automation and job security.

Advisers at Odds on Whether LBJ Should Launch Watts Poverty Plan

BY ROBERT S. ALLEN AND PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON President Lyndon B. Johnson's forthcoming party program designed to recon-struct the Los Angeles area has triggered a spirited dispute among his domestic and political policy advisers.

They are split down the middle over whether the President should use the politically-oriented visit "to meet with the poor as well as the rich" and to boost his anti-poverty program.

At issue is a proposed tour of the Los Angeles area, the scene of one of the nation's bloodiest and most costly riots.

The President's tentative plans call for a one-day political trip on October 15. He is scheduled to address a $1,000-a-plate dinner given by the President's Club, whose members donate $1,000 annually to the party. In addition to this appearance, the President will hold a series of meetings with California Democratic leaders, "Limited Agenda."

This is the "limited" agenda worked out by Jack Valenti, special White House assistant, and Clifton Carter, the President's political trouble-shooter, and it is the one the Secret Service wants him to follow.

A group of the President's domestic policy advisers, headed by Anti-Poverty Director Sargent Shriver, have much more grandiose plans for the trip.

They are privately urging the President to take full advantage of the West Coast visit to boost his anti-poverty program and strengthen the hand of Washington officials in dealings with local authorities.

Under their unannounced proposal, the President would make a highly-publicized tour of the Watts area and hold a series of meetings with spokesmen representing the poor in that strife-torn community.

These advisers want the President to announce a massive reconstruction program for the Johnson Administration this year.

He is going to both Europe and South America.

State Department officials are now busy discussing a visit by Humphrey to Poland in December. Two national organizations which had sought the Vice President as a speaker that month were notified in writing that Humphrey would be out of the country.

The Vice President's trip to Latin America is scheduled for November and will follow an October visit to Brazil by Sen. Robert Kennedy. D-N.Y. Humphrey is expected to visit Chile as well as several other countries.

A strong booster of Chile President Frei, Humphrey plans to use the trip to support the controversial Christian Democratic leader's efforts to extend his influence throughout South America.

Before going abroad, the Vice President will inaugurate a series of lectures on "Human Aspects of International Relations" at the Edward R. Murrow Center of the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy, Tufts University.

POLITICAL FLASHES — Sen. Robert Kennedy is telling friends that both President Johnson and Vice President Humphrey will take part in the New York mayoral campaign this fall. He says the administration will fix its big political group of legislators on the guns on Representative John Lindsay, the GOP candidate, to keep him from establishing a political base — from which to

Court Ruling on Water Service Expected Soon

Dane County Judge To Act on Order to Serve Town Church

A circuit court ruling on whether the City of Appleton has to supply water service to a new church in the Town of Menasha as ordered by the Public Service Commission is expected next week.

Contacted at Madison Tuesday, Dane County Circuit Judge Edwin Wilkie said a heavy caseload had prevented him from rendering a decision earlier.

"However, I hope to review the briefs and dispose of the case as soon as possible," Judge Wilkie said.

More than a year ago the city council turned down the request of Our Redeemer Lutheran Church for water service on Midway Road in the town.

Standing Policy
The council has had a policy for years of not extending water outside the corporate limits unless an annexation is involved.

Refusing to obey the order, the city took the PSC to court. The outcome of the litigation is

Propose $13 Million Cut in Welfare Costs

Task Force Recommends State Agency Reorganize Operation

MADISON (AP)—A $13 million cut in the annual cost of operating the State Welfare Department was proposed today by a government efficiency team of private businessmen.

The group backed up its recommendation with proposals that would reorganize the department, revise the present method of distributing public assistance aid and increase certain license and service fees.

Counties would have to pick up about $12 million of the recommended cut in state expenses to keep local services at their present level. The total is divided between savings the state would realize through revision in aids and the higher amount counties would have to pay for state care of mental patients.

The report of the state task force on improved government expenditure management concluded that the present aid formula gives "a terrific break" to counties now spending the least on public welfare services.

$172,456 Set For Recreation

Appleton Board Cuts $4,000 From Original Request

It will cost $172,456 to conduct a municipal recreation program in Appleton during 1966.

The recreation department budget — down $6,976 from this year — was formally approved by the recreation commission at the city hall Tuesday night.

Commission members sliced an estimated $4,000 from original department requests prepared by Director E. W. Grover.

The next step will be to forward the budget to the finance committee for further review.

$1 on Tax Rate
The appropriation requested for next year represents about $1 on the tax rate.

Accounting for the following: administration, $21,831; general purposes, $59,575; maintenance, $19,076; Erb Pool, $25,144; Mead Pool, $26,807; Goodland Field, $18,218; Little League, $1,215; and Golden Age Club.

In other action, the commission took under consideration a request from the Fox Cities Baseball Club to waive the $2,000 rental fee for Goodland Field for the past season.

The baseball club, according to Grover, incurred a sizeable loss and per mutual agreement, an audit will be conducted to determine whether the city has any lease income coming.

PSC Approves Rate Increase For Appleton Water Utility

$74,568 Annual Hike in Income Okayed to Meet Operating Costs

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — The Wisconsin Public Service Commission has approved an increase in rates of the Appleton Water Department, amounting to $74,568 a year, sufficient for a 5.5 per cent net return on a rate base estimated at $2,657,693. The utility has been earning 3.5 per cent.

Significant is the fact that a 40 per cent surcharge was approved for customers of the utility outside the city's corporate limits.

Of the increased income, $50,663 will be charged to water service customers and $23,905 will be paid by the city for public fire protection service.

Expenses Increase
The commission sustained the claim of the utility management that operating expenses have been increasing at the average rate of $28,000 for each of the past three years and that depreciation expense and the tax equivalent have increased about the same amount.

The city had asked for an increase in the present surcharge of 25 per cent for teachers, administrators, home-service at retail outside its corporate limits to 52 per cent.

The commission said that an increase in the charges for non-resident customers is justified, but limited it to 40 per cent.

The commission found that because of increasing expenses the utility has experienced a declining rate of return on its investment. Additions and improvement for this year will approximate $192,000 in cost, the rate order said.

Appleton's rates were last revised in 1962.

Redesign Bridge at Butte des Morts

Rebuilding of Present Crossing, 2 More Lanes in Plan for 1970

A plan which would widen the Butte des Morts bridge near Oshkosh to four lanes and complete the four lane super-highway between Milwaukee and Green Bay is in the hands of the federal bureau of roads and will be studied soon by the Army Corps of Engineers.

Leroy Empey, district state highway commissioner, said the plan is the first specific step to be taken in reconstruction of the lake crossing which has long been a traffic bottleneck for motorists using U. S. 41. Empey said that although the plan is being studied, there have been no engineering drawings made or funds allotted for the work at the bridge.

The state highway department, said in Madison that although the project is not included for construction through 1970, and accelerated status following Corps of Engineering approval, could allow initial work to start as early as 1967 or 1968. Construction would take about one year, a spokesman said.

The project, expected to cost about $4 million, would incorporate the construction of another two lanes of traffic divided by a median strip from the existing causeway, and a bridge.

Navigation
The new bridge would provide navigation clearance of 30 feet, according to the plans submitted for approval.

Negotiations End at 4:30 a.m. Today, Scheduled to Resume Monday Between Union, Firm

Marathon union-management talks were adjourned at 4:30 a.m. today with progress reported but no settlement reached in the five-week strike which has crippled construction in the Fox Cities.

However, there was veiled optimism from all concerned that an end to the walkout could be achieved next week.

Negotiators for the Fox Valley Construction Material Suppliers' Association and Teamsters Local 563 have agreed to meet again Monday to resume deliberations on a 1965 contract.

Bargainers for the contractors and union truck drivers met with Donald Lee, Madison, of the Wisconsin Employment Relations Board at the Conway Hotel, and started talks at 1:30 p.m. Monday.

Library Adopts $174,007 Budget

$152,488 Tax Levy for 1966 by Appleton Board May Hit Snag

The Appleton Public Library Board of Trustees adopted a 1966 budget of $174,007 Tuesday night, but it is possible a special meeting may have to be called early next week to revise the appropriations.

What some of the board members wished to term a "tentative budget" calls for a $152,488 tax levy, compared to the 1965 levy of $154,374. However, the total amount allotted by the city for the current year was $129,255.

The budget portion of Tuesday's meeting was marked by an hour and a half of discussion and several changes were made to the budget proposal originally submitted by the library board's finance committee.

Most of the discussion centered around how to hold the spending line in 1966 and still include a $13,600 air conditioning appropriation — an item that has been budgeted for the past two years but has been slashed from the annual request by the city council's finance committee.

Budget Adjustment Suggested
Noting that the library board at the end of each year, during the past few years, has been turning about $15,000 surplus back to the city, board member Donald R. Herring suggested adjusting the budget categories so as to keep the total levy request about the same as 1965, not have the big surplus at the end of the year and thus son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Melcher Jr., 1001 W. NEENAH — A friend's concern has led police to the discovery of an 80-year-old man suffering from malnutrition, with an ample supply of food-stuffs stored in his home.

Police were notified Thursday that Alois Ulrich, 113 E. Wisconsin Ave., had not been seen for a few days and they were concerned about his well being.

Investigation found the litter strewn about the vacant second floor dwelling. The quarters were lined with what authorities called a 50-year accumulation of

Open House at Janssen School

Visitors to See 10-Room Addition For First Time

COMBINED LOCKS — Open house will be held at Janssen School from 6:30 to 8 p.m. Tuesday and district residents will have the opportunity to view the 10-classroom, $200,000 addition constructed this year.

Other school rooms will be open and teachers will answer questions about the school or curriculum. The open house and program are being arranged by the Combined Locks Parent-Teacher Association. Lunch and refreshments will be served.

A short PTA meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. Tuesday at which time Ray Hamann, superintendent of schools, will explain the Oct. 12 referendum to decide whether to float a $25,000 bond issue with which to complete the second floor of the high school and enlarge the music and industrial arts rooms.

Second Floor Use

Completion of the second floor will provide the school district with additional classrooms for the 1966-67 school year when over 200 second graders will be transferring from Holy Name Catholic Grade School.

The upper floor at the Kimberly High School will be used for kindergarten, first, second, third and fourth grade classes for children living in the vicinity of the high school. This will permit opening of classrooms in other schools to the incoming second and graders in those areas.

Essentially the second floor of the high school might be taken over by students in higher grades until needed for high school purposes.

Company personnel declined to comment on the company offer, indicating they would meet with the board of directors in Chicago to discuss the issues.

The next meeting between the company and the unions will be sometime next week.

Supervisors Ask Details On Fund Offer

$180,000 Available In Federal Grant to Winnebago County

OSHKOSH — Winnebago County supervisors are going to look a $180,000 gift horse in the mouth.

At Tuesday's board session the county clerk read a letter addressed to Chairman Joseph Drexler from Gov. Warren E. Hearnes. The letter indicated that the recent congressional economic opportunity act earmarked $180,000 for Winnebago County out of the $251,000 for the area in which the county is a part. Winnebago, Fond du Lac and Calumet counties are assigned as one area under the act.

The governor's letter asked for the "vigorous backing" of the Winnebago County board in establishing a Winnebago County Community Action Organization and the unification of this group with the Regional Community Action organization.

Asked what this meant, Chairman Drexler replied that he tried to find out what it was all about at the state County Boards Association convention last week but that no one there seemed to know either, including some of the state legislators.

More Information

"Is this the poverty act?" one supervisor asked.

Board members decided to get more information and delegated chairman Drexler to write the governor's office for more background.

Establishing a branch office of the county welfare department in the Neenah-Menasha area was asked in a letter from the Rev. John C. Hanchett in his role as president of the Council. This request was turned over to the welfare board.

The Winnebago County Bar Association wrote the board that the basement lounge room used for industrial commission hearings is, in the opinion of the Industrial Commission examiners, "less than desirable."

Plan Meeting

The Bar Association letter said the acoustics and decor of the room is not fitting for the hearings. It asked if an unused jury room or some other room could be used. Otherwise, the Bar Association said, these hearings may be held in other counties and this would work a hardship on Winnebago County persons. The letter was referred to the public building committee.

Letters from the Wolf River Basin regional planning commission called the board's attention to an inter-county water resources meeting scheduled for the Pioneer Hotel Oct. 28 and 29, at which about 300 are expected.

Lawmakers Will Discuss Major Bills

NEENAH - MENASHA — Three Winnebago County legislators will discuss major bills under consideration in the fall session of the state legislature at the meeting of the Neenah-Menasha Republican Club at the Elks Club on Thursday at 8 p.m.

School Staff to Get Flu Shots

Kimberly Board Approves Voluntary Inoculation Plan

KIMBERLY—Free flu shots to employees of the school district on a voluntary basis were authorized Monday by the board of education.

Shots will be administered by the board of education health officer and the program would be set up by Ray Hamann, superintendent of schools.

Extend Lamers Road

Hamann was requested to investigate the possibility of extending Lamers Road in the Town of Buchanan to the Kimberly High School. The road deadends two blocks west of Outagamie County Trunk N and Town of Buchanan and Combined Locks students must go far out of their way to reach the school. Extending the road would provide a safer and quicker access to the school, board members said.

Approval to extend WIAA insurance to cover girls participating in play days or sports days at the school was granted. Previously, coverage was provided only for boys participating in school sports programs.

Discussion on expanding the Youth Center program, was held but no action was taken.

Myron Huth, business manager, was authorized to attend a business manager's institute at Minneapolis Oct. 9 through 14.

At Matriculation Day

Lawrence Students Told 'Get Involved'

Lawrence University President Curtis W. Tarr, Tuesday challenged students and faculty to become "a creative minority" who would work beyond their material needs in a search "to uncover the higher destiny of mankind." Dr. Tarr spoke at the matriculation day convocation.

Dr. Tarr described "a new aristocracy" he said is emerging in America in a variety of fields including the arts, religion, industry and politics.

Face Problems

These leaders will face new problems from those formerly seen by the country's enterprise capitalists, industrialists, financiers and governmental representatives, he said. Their position in society likely will be determined in new ways, and inclusion in their group may 833 W. Wisconsin Ave., at 11:31 a.m. Tuesday where a car struck a gasoline pump and started a fire.

Firemen said a car owned by Robert Lauer, 206 W. High St., Weyauwega, was involved in an accident with a truck owned by Allen Schultz, 605 N. Clark St., and struck the pump. The accident occurred at N. Bennett Street and W. Wisconsin Avenue.

Station attendants had extinguished the fire by the time firemen arrived.

They must prepare themselves for any challenge; They must emphasize the quality of service they render in the things they do.

There will be little or no leisure for a creative minority in tomorrow's world, and their task will be demanding. It will require taxing their imaginations, developing new intellectual skills and learning sensitivity toward their fellow men, Tarr said.

Thorough Preparation

Creatively, he said, "will require more thorough preparation" than in the past. On the other hand, a given innovation will affect less spectacular social revolutions than inventions such as the cotton gin and reaper a century ago.

Service to society will be measured in the future not so much by what men do, but by how they do it. The ethics of a former day the self-interest and egoism, will be an inadequate guide for human conduct.

The creative minority must "set aside pre-occupation with themselves and plunge into the thrill of involvement, cooperation and hard work." Thus, their service in a larger context will become "a service to mankind," Tarr said.

The Price is Right

The proprietor of a carpet store buys some new carpets at 35 per cent off the list price, and he marks them so that after giving a discount of 20 per cent he will make a profit of 10 per cent of the marked price. He makes $13 on the sale of each carpet. What is the list price of each carpet?

Answer

The list price of each carpet is $140. The $13 he makes on each carpet is 10 per cent of its marked price, and thus the marked price is $130. Since he gives a 20 per cent discount, he sells the carpets for $104, which after deducting his profit of $13 makes his cost $91. Therefore, $91 is 65 per cent of the list price, which is $140.

Hope Offers Himself in Comedy Show

BY TV SCOUT

8-8-Channels 4-5 -- Bob Hope Presents himself in his first comedy special of the season -- an hour of brittle humor and solid songs. It's one of the best efforts for the comedian who is in excellent company with guests Beatrice Lillie (who is mightily funny in a ribbing of the film, "Cat Ballou"), Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. (who provides Hope a mean foil in a satire on astronauts), Dinah Shore (who sings "Any Place I Hang My Hat") and Andy Williams (who solos with "The Way You Look Tonight"). There is also another obvious spoof on the James Bond theme, and Hope's usual crisp commentary on the news.

6:30-7:30-Channels 2-12 -- Lost in Space gets down to settling on an unknown planet with the Robinsons regarding their new "home" with the same awe the Pilgrims did theirs in 1620. There are no redskins around but plenty of diverting and scary things like electrical-volcanic pits and space creatures that go, "bloop, bloop." Also watch Dr. Smith go berserk and kick his robot pal's metallic shins.

6:30-8-Channels 5 -- The Virginian, and pals, are also lost in space over a real live girl -- Susan Oliver, a perky school narm who has a grand time turning the boys' heads. For the most part, "A Little Learning," is all fluffy romantic, with James Drury courting the teacher with a basketful of eggs, and Albert Salmi getting extra lessons in his ABC's. But look out for Bruce Dern, a very mean ex-convict, who claims Susan is his bride. (Color)

7:30-8-Channels 11-6-9 -- Gidget is still operating on the theory that "life is a gas" with "The Great Kahuna." Marty Milner guest stars as Cass Cobb, the king of the surfboard riders, "the wailing ultimate," who floats in from the South Seas, to send Sally Field's head spinning. More slang than bang in this one. (Color)

8-9-Channels 11-6-9 -- The Big Valley concerns Big Mamma's (Barbara Stanwyck) painful pilgrimage to find if Big Daddy loved her more than he did the mother of his illegitimate Big Son (Lee Majors). And it's a Big Bore, unless you go for old-fashioned kitchen sink dramas, with sudy emotions. (Color)

8:30-9-Channels 2-7-12 -- "Uhny Uhtz" fizzles out on The Dick Van Dyke Show. It's one of the series' least engrossing efforts. Rob is convinced he has not only spotted a flying saucer but thinks he has made direct communication with it. Of course, he is the only one who has -- until Buddy gets in the act, too, for a letdown finale.

9-10-Channels 4-5 -- I Spy has another intriguing adventure with "Carry Me Back to Old Tsing Tao." Again agents Robinson and Scott are dealing with inscrutable Orientals, and in particular an aged Chinese-American who owes the U.S. government $1 million in taxes. He wants the boys to take the money to Washington so he can die "an honorable man" in Formosa. (Color)

9-10-Channels 2-7-12 -- The Danny Kaye Show is all swinging hearts and flowers, with Shirley Jones joining her host in songs like "Blame It on Love" and "The Begat." There is also a big wing-ding production number ("The Trial of Man Versus Woman") and some rock 'n' wailing on the subject by the Righteous Brothers, who offer "You've Lost That Lovin' Feelin'." (Color)

"When that boy handed me the card, something inside me changed," Weber recalled. "I suddenly realized how self-centered my life was. I vowed to do something about it."

In his music books, notes are identified with large letters — c, d, e, f, g, a — and the corresponding keys on the piano are marked with cutout letters.

Under this system, Weber said, even a blind child could learn to play simple tunes on a piano.

A bachelor, Weber spends much of his time demonstrating his new system for education groups. He is financing his education with money he saved while employed as a teacher and musician.

"I'll go anywhere to demonstrate my system," he said. "I know now these people can be taught. I know we can help make them useful and more independent."

When Peter Connolly finished playing a tune on his clarinet, he turned to Weber.

"You're my teacher," he said. "My nice teacher. I like you."

North Viet Nam Threatens To Execute More Americans

Claims 'Aggressors' Criminal Acts to End 'Lenient' Policy

By RONALD I. DEUTSCH
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — North Viet Nam hinted today that summary execution awaits Americans captured by the Viet Cong in the future.

The official Hanoi Daily Nhan Dan said the two American soldiers shot by the Viet Cong Sunday "would have been put to death long ago had it not been for the lenient policy of the (Viet Cong) which had spared their lives and given them good treatment."

Then the Communist paper said that the policies of the Americans and the South Vietnamese, such as the execution in Da Nang last week of three Vietnamese charged with leading an anti-American demonstration, "have given them no chance to continue enjoying that leniency."

No More Leniency
The Viet Cong will no longer "allow the aggressors to take advantage of this (lenient) policy to carry out criminal acts," Nhan Dan said.

The Americans executed Sunday were Capt. Humbert R. Versace of Baltimore, Md., and Sgt. Kenneth M. Roraback, whose wife lives in Fayetteville, N.C. The Communists had said they were executed in reprisal for the execution of the three Vietnamese.

A third American, Sgt. Harold George Bennett of Perryville, Ark., was executed by the Viet Cong June 25 in reprisal for the execution of Communist terrorists in Saigon.

The commentary, broadcast by Radio Hanoi, said Roraback "was a cruel American sergeant who had conducted many commando operations to massacre the population in Tan An and Cho Lon areas."

Versace, the commentary asserted, "was an intelligence officer who had committed numerous crimes against the South Vietnamese people."

Radio Hanoi also broadcast a statement which it said the Central Committee of the South Viet Nam National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong, had issued Saturday. After discussing the Da Nang executions, it said:

"As a further warning to the U.S. and its henchmen, the Viet Cong has been instructed to take practical actions to answer the enemy."

"Once again let us us practical deeds to teach them another lesson on the heroic will and dauntlessness of our Vietnamese people."

Parents of Abandoned Youth to Face Charges

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The parents of a mute, mentally retarded boy who was abandoned here, face charges of neglect when they return to Michigan— with or without their son.

The father, Victor Thorne, 48, left Detroit by air for Miami

shortly after the charges were filed against him and his wife, Mayne, 44.

Judge Ben Sheppard of Dade County Juvenile Court said he probably would decide today what should be done with the Thornes' son, Richard, 13, after meeting the father.

Thorne, foreman of a tool and die plant in suburban Detroit, said Sheppard had assured him by phone he would be given custody of Richard.

No Custody Decision
But the judge and Juvenile Court officers in Pontiac, Mich.,

where the charges were filed Tuesday, said no decision had been reached.

A search for Richard's parents was started after he was found at Miami International Airport last week with only three cents in his pockets and labels snipped from his clothing.

Mrs. Thorne admitted she left her son at the airport last Tuesday and said she does not want him back.

In Pontiac, Lynn G. Kellogg, Michigan's deputy welfare director, said the neglect charges were filed "in order that we can get jurisdiction and bring the boy back to Michigan."

Work Out a Plan
"What we're trying to do is not to publicize and prosecute the parents but work out a plan to help them and the child," he said.

A Miami Juvenile Court investigator, Barron Shields, said Richard, made speechless by an illness at the age of two, probably would not be returned to his mother.

Shields said, however, that officials in Miami were unlikely to file charges against Mrs. Thorne, who said she abandoned Richard because she did not know what to do with him.

Treetop Landings Will be used by helicopters in Viet Nam late this year. This mockup shows how steel netting can be used to establish a helipad in dense jungle areas where it would otherwise be impossible for a helicopter to land. The netting is dropped from a helicopter across the tops of trees and a platform is deposited in the vertex for the helipad. The method, developed at Aberdeen Proving Grounds, has been tried successfully. (AP Wirephoto)

Ecumenical Council Votes Today On Relaxing of Vatican Controls

By GERALD MILLER

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Ecumenical Council begins final voting today on a document giving national bishops' conferences an unprecedented degree of authority and relaxation of Vatican control.

The document, on the pastoral office of bishops, puts into action the concept of collegial sharing of power by the bishops and the Pope. That concept was expressed in a document on the nature of the Church approved and promulgated by the council fathers and Pope Paul VI last year.

Share Power

The earlier document states that the bishops and the Pope share power in the government of the Church.

The document on specific powers of the bishop, when finally approved and promulgated, will make it possible for national bishops' conferences to act as deliberative bodies with juridical powers of their own.

This means, for example, that for the first time the bishops of the United States will be able to take action on Church issues in their country without first asking permission from Rome. Decisions of the conference could be made binding on all bishops in the country.

Some Reluctance
That aspect of the document disturbs some bishops who are reluctant to surrender any of the independence they now enjoy in their dioceses. There seemed no doubt, however, that the majority of the 2,200 bishops at the council would approve the document.

The document also contains a section proposing a synod of bishops to work with the Pope. Pope Paul anticipated final approval of the proposal by announcing at the start of this fourth and final council session on Sept. 14 that he was setting up such a synod.

Consultative Character
National and regional conferences of bishops began about a century ago. They have had only consultative character, with no power to make decisions.

At the end of the second council session, in 1963, the Pope granted them some minor powers. At that session they also won the right to decide on extending certain changes in public worship in their areas. At the last session they got the right to decide on instances of common prayer with other Christians in their areas.

Shadow of Red China Looms Behind Meeting Of Rusk With Gromyko

Major Break-Through Prospects Seem Poor at New York Dinner

By LEWIS GULICK

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.

(AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk will sample Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko's diplomatic portfolio tonight to see whether it contains any proposals worth following up for a U.S.-Soviet agreement.

Prospects of a major breakthrough seem poor — and one reason is Red China, uninvited to the dinner meeting in Rusk's Waldorf Astoria suite but looming large behind relations between Washington and Moscow.

Peking lists America as enemy No. 1. It accuses the Soviet Union of betraying the Communist cause in Viet Nam and of collaborating with the U.S. enemy in the India-Pakistan conflict.

Seek Other Accords

Rusk is ready to look for other accords with the Soviets outside of the Viet Nam struggle, in which the Kremlin backs Hanoi. But in the U.S. opinion, the Kremlin is more reluctant to divorce the Southeast Asia issue from the wide range of other dealings with the United States.

Because of its rivalry with Peking for leadership of the Communist world, U.S. strategists believe Moscow finds it uncomfortable to reach accommodation with Washington.

The Russians recently blocked part of the U.S.-Soviet cultural exchange program. They arrested a U.S. citizen who strayed over the Norwegian-Soviet border. While joining the United States in the U.N. Security Council cease-fire call to India and Pakistan, the Russians' propaganda portrayed the Kashmir dispute as the fruit of Western imperialist colonialism.

Cold War Issues

Rusk planned to canvass the main cold war issues generally in his first discussion with Gromyko since the two last attended the U.N. General Assembly 10 months ago.

Among these questions are disarmament proposals put forth by the two sides, including what both term a top priority need — a treaty to bar the spread of nuclear weapons.

Lung Cancer Detection Plan Starts

By JOE DILL

PARK RIDGE, Ill. (AP) — A simple, painless community experiment is under way in Park Ridge which a pathologist says could become a routine form of detecting lung cancer before a person develops symptoms.

The disease, if detected early, can be curbed successfully in almost every case by surgery, said Dr. Jonas Valaitis. "There is a good possibility that this form of cancer detection will be commonplace a few years from now," he said. All the experiment involves is a bottle and a microscope. For three consecutive mornings, 6,000 Park Ridge residents are depositing sputum in a sanitary vial. The vial is turned over to Lutheran General Hospital for microscopic examination.

The two-year study is financed by a $22,650 grant from the American Cancer Society. It is directed by Dr. Valaitis, chief pathologist at Lutheran General Hospital.

Dr. Valaitis said in an interview that cancer cells can be detected in sputum before the cancer growths show up in X-rays, and before the victim has observable symptoms.

Dr. Valaitis said the technique is not new. It was discovered in 1928 by Dr. G. Papanicolaou and is in general use.

Milwaukee Soldier Faces Court Martial For Hunger Strike

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — P.L. Winstel R. Belton, the Milwaukee soldier accused of disobeying an order to eat so that he might escape service in Viet Nam, faces a General Court Martial Oct. 5.

The U.S. 4th Army said Tuesday the court martial will be held at Ft. Sam Houston's post court room.

Belton, 26, will be tried on charges of disobeying an order to eat to maintain his physical fitness and of malingering so he would not be able to serve in Viet Nam. He was a member of the First Cavalry Division at Ft. Benning, Ga., but was transferred last week to the special processing detachment at Ft. Sam Houston. He is restricted to the unit's area.

Policeman in Los Angeles Is Acquitted

Had Shot Suspect Believed Involved In Daughter's Rape

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "I hope to get back on the force; that's my life work."

A suspended police lieutenant, thus greeted his acquittal Tuesday after a trial in which brother officers testified he shot and wounded a man he mistakenly believed involved in the mass rape of his daughter.

"I'm sorry I hit anyone," said Lt. Thomas E. O'Neal as smiling jurors shook his hand. "The fact that it was the wrong man didn't make any difference. I just shouldn't have done it. It was the wrong thing to do."

O'Neal, 41, awaits a police board hearing Nov. 2.

Rape Trial Continues

As the verdict was read, another jury in a nearby courtroom was hearing evidence in the trial of five other youths accused of raping Shirley Diane O'Neal, 19. She testified in both cases.

O'Neal had sobbed unabashedly as he testified that his daughter, selling cookbooks door-to-door, had been enticed into a house by the promise of a sale. Inside, a gang of young men raped her.

Three days later O'Neal was assisting the investigation of the rape case when, in West Valley police station, two suspects were led down a hallway. Other officers in the hall said O'Neal suddenly drew his pistol and

Propose Plan to Train Draftees Now Rejected

Two-Year, Full-Time Program Suggested For About 25,000 for Emergency Service

By THEODORE A. EDIGER

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) —

The director of the Selective Service System says he is considering a plan that would be "something almost approaching universal service."

Under the plan, said Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, men now being rejected by their draft boards would be given special training to prepare them for emergency, in which they would be expected to serve.

He spoke to the National Guard Association of the United States, which will consider endorsing his proposal Thursday.

Hershey said his plan initially calls for a two-year, full-time training period for between 25,000 and 30,000 men rejected for regular military service.

He called the plan "Pilot Tests For 1-Ys." Men considered fit to serve only in time of emergency are classified 1-Y. Hershey said the 1-Ys would be trained away from home in escape old environments and they would be given educational opportunities.

He said more than half of America's youths are unable to meet draft standards.

"During the last fiscal year, we rejected 130,000 before even taking them from the local boards," said Hershey. "Of those, 54,000 were turned down for moral reasons — that usually means being convicted of something that is antithetical."

Reprieve, Not Pardon

In addition to these rejections, Hershey said, 50.5 per cent of the men who took pre-induction tests were rejected, mostly for physical or mental reasons. The white-haired general said that marriages by young men about to be drafted presented no serious problems.

"At the rate we are moving," he said, "we'll get to them early next year anyway. They'll get a reprieve rather than a pardon."

Helps Solve 3 Biggest FALSE TEETH Worries and Problems

A little PASTEETH sprinkled on your dentures does all this: (1) Helps hold false teeth more firmly in place. (2) Holds them more comfortably. (3) Lets you bite up to 35% harder without discomfort. PASTEETH Powder is alkaline (non-acid). Won't sour. No gummy, soapy, pasty taste or feeling! Avoid embarrassment. Get PASTEETH at all drug counters.

O'Neal, father of four, is a veteran of 15 years on the force. The rape trial continues.

Forecaster on Wagon As Rain Drenches Area

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Mother said there would be days like this.

'Remember, Sonny,' she used to say, 'into each life some rain must fall.'

But this is ridiculous!

More than eight inches of precipitation has showered on the Fox Cities this month.

The sun has been as scarce as a go-go dancer at a prayer meeting.

And the end is not in sight according to the weatherman, currently America's most unpopular male.

Weatherman On Wagon

Rumor has it the weatherman decided to go on the wagon—he's quite drinking water.

Like the rest of us, he is getting disgusted at awaking every morning and seeing those big, fat drops falling from saddened skies.

The weather has been frustrating to say the least and very depressive to say the most.

They claim one Fox Cities publisher had an appointment with another—they talked about the weather.

There is also an unconfirmed rumor an Appleton housewife hit her husband over the head with a frying pan because he was not having his eggs sunny-side up every morning.

Rice fields are reportedly doing well throughout the Fox Cities, giving a chance there will be more than enough rice to go around for next year's weddings.

Noah's Arks May Open Plant

And a new industry—Noah's Arks, Inc.—is reportedly considering the possibility of launching a new plant in Appleton.

The weather has had other side effects, too.

Drunk and neighbors are throwing mud patties across the fence at each other.

A wholesale catalogue firm announced it's taking orders for lots from the Arabian desert shipped to the Fox Cities C.O.D.

Persons Lost in Ditches

'Lost and Found' ads have turned up several missing persons wandering around in some of the ditches in downtown Appleton. The poor souls thought College Avenue had been reconstructed and that they were walking along a mall with an ornamental fountain overhead.

It's rumored the Appleton City Council will consider an ordinance banning rain, providing the 20 aldermen can reach agreement on whether or not water is really wet.

While this may be one of the wettest months in the area since prohibition, take consolation in the fact that a major grass fire hasn't been reported in these parts for weeks.

So have patience and try not to let the rain get you down—at the rate we've been getting clobbered by the elements it should be snowing soon.

To America with love... The 1966 Chrysler

Could be we're getting too emotional. But it isn't very often you get a chance to follow an all-time sales record year with a new Chrysler like this one.

Sure, our '65 was great. But the '66 is even better.

It looks better. Moves quicker. It's got a beautiful new front end and a very dramatic new rear.

It's got a bigger and more zesty group of V-8 engines. From a 383 cubic incher to a 440 TNT with twin exhausts and twin snorkels. (A "snorkel" is an air intake horn for the carburetor — does great things for performance.)

The interiors, all up and down the line, are more luxurious and comforting. Take our new shell bucket seats, for example. It's almost as if they had been custom-fitted for you.

One thing we didn't even think about changing. It has to do with money. Five of our Newport models (real Chryslers — not junior editions) are priced just a few dollars a month more than the most popular smaller cars with the same equipment. This includes features like power steering, power brakes, a 383 cubic inch V-8, automatic transmission, radio and many standard items like safety door handles and seat belts.

Move up to Chrysler... it's getting easier by the minute.

The French honor St. Michael on Sept. 29 with a fete which features the traditional "gaufres" or waffles, similar to those pictured at the right. These delicate French waffles may be served with powdered sugar when used as a dessert, accompanied by mugs of hot chocolate. Above is a coffee cake of dates and bread in remembrance of St. Paul during his days in his desert retreat.

Traditional Blessings of Bread

BY LILLIAN MACKESY
Post-Crescent Food Editor

There's a new and exciting cookbook just out which every good cook with a yen for traditions will want to own. It's a prodigious work that must represent a real labor of love for author Demetria Taylor.

The book is called aptly "The Cook's Blessing" because it deals with foods that have become traditional in a religious sense. Until now, recipes for foods such as these have been hard to find since they were tucked away in all sorts of books or in obscure places. Some, of course, simply have been handed down through family generations and got written down at all by sheer luck.

Thus, "The Cook's Blessings" with its 300 recipes for foods associated with saints, holy days, feasts, fasts and fun days connected with religion and the church has been a monumental task for Miss Taylor to compile. Every recipe has been tested and revised for use in American kitchens by the author, herself an outstanding authority on food and cookery.

"In this country, sadly enough, a great many of the religious traditions concerning food have been forgotten," writes Miss Taylor. "Yet, in other parts of the world it still is customary to honor a saint's day or feast day with special dishes that have been served for centuries."

A case in point is St. Michael's Day today. St. Michael, special patron and protector of the church, is honored in many countries. In England, today is known as Michaelmas, a special church festival celebrated with lavish hospitality. Usually, Michaelmas scones are served for tea in English homes. In Poland, St. Michael's Day calls for a hearty feast of roast goose with apple stuffing.

Special waffles called "gaufres" are traditional this day in France for the Fete de Saint-Michel. Street vendors still set up stalls filled with the delicate waffles near the doors of the churches. They bake the waffles on the spot to tempt the people coming from mass. This is a custom which has been going on since the 12th century in France.

There are numerous versions of the light and toothsome waffles, depending on the section of the country. Many of these waffles are made from a yeast-raised batter. The recipe presented today was organized for preparing on a modern American waffle iron. The good French housewife would make these delicate treats on her "gaufrier," a special iron for just this purpose.

Added to this is the recipe for Date-Branded Coffee Cake, a bread to honor St. Paul. According to Miss Taylor, the association of St. Paul and home-baked bread dates back to the 3rd century when the apostle fled from persecution and took to a desert cave. Here he fed on dates from a nearby palm tree, so the Biblical story goes, and then one day a raven appeared with half a loaf of bread. For years, the raven brought a half loaf of fresh bread to the exile. When St. Anthony joined Paul in

Rainy Weather May Affect Supply of Harvest Vegetables

Recent rains are placing a question mark on future supplies of fall vegetables, according to Rosemary Stare, consumer marketing specialist at the University of Wisconsin.

In some cases, she reports the rain may cause damage to the crops. In others, it's holding up the harvest since machines just can't get in the fields. For example, a large potato crop is ready for harvest, but there's no way to get the vegetables out of the ground.

Beans, beets, carrots, celery and cucumbers are among the crops affected in Wisconsin and in neighboring states. More will be known about this situation next week.

Helped Squash The rain has helped winter squash grow big. They're good quality and very reasonable now. Other good choices are tomatoes, cabbage, onions, green peppers and cauliflower. Look for some pork specials again this week. Supplies of increasing in supply. Citrus

Retarded's Temper Tantrums Cause Neighbors Real Worry

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A lovely family moved next door to us last March. Their youngest is a girl whom I will call Jody. She is 12 years old, but has the mentality of a five-year-old.

Our eight-year-old daughter (I will call her Margaret) gets along fairly well with Jody. She understands that her friend is mentally retarded and makes allowances for her. Yesterday Margaret came home in tears. Jody got mad because she couldn't get her doll's clothes on right. She tore the doll apart and bit Margaret on the arm. The skin was not broken but the teeth marks were there.

Jody has had temper tantrums before but she has never actually hurt our daughter. My husband is very upset. Jody's mother is sick at heart over it. She says it is important that Jody play with normal children just the right words to tell a and she has begged us not to keep our child away. Will you please give us some advice? We cannot be objective. — Perplexed

Dear Perplexed: Retarded children present a heartbreaking problem to parents. Those who have normal children should try to understand and help as best they can.

Tell Jody's mother you will co-operate if she will do her part. This means she must promise to supervise the two little girls every moment they are together and separate them at the first sign of trouble.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please, please help me think of perfectly wonderful woman that she is wearing her dresses about four inches too short. Etta (who is my husband's sister) is 51 years old. Etta used to wear a size 14 but she has put on about 20 pounds in the last 10 years. She doesn't realize that dresses hike up when they fit snug — especially gorgandy. The other evening she bent over to shake hands with someone seated on the sofa and everyone could see her garters hooked into the tops of her stockings.

This woman is really a fine person and I'm sure if she knew how unattractive she looks in short skirts she'd lower her hemlines. Please help me to help her. — Dee-Dee

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a girl 15 who is going with a very nice boy. I will call him Alfred. When he met my best friend, Sally, he seemed to like her right away. The next thing I knew Alfred was asking me to get Sally and her boy friend to double date with us.

Last night was the third time the four of us have gone to the movies together and it was the same old story. He makes sure I walk down the aisle first. Then he follows me and makes sure Sally is next so that he can sit between both of us. Sally's date is on the other end of the foursome.

During the tender scenes in the movies Alfred always has something to say to Sally. He talks to me during the cartoons. I don't mind telling you this makes me plenty mad. Should I pretend not to notice or have it out with him? — Edged Out

Dear Edged: Since Alfred seems interested in Sally, tell him you want to knock off the going steady so he can date her. This is obviously what he wants to do so be gracious about it, Lamb Chop. He's as good as gone.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. (Copyright, 1965)

Tally Points Determine Best Defense

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

In some finessing situations the correct play depends on which opponent started with a doubleton. When possible, play the other suits to get a count before you make up your mind about the key finesse.

West took two high hearts and shifted to the jack of diamonds. Declarer won in dummy and led the jack of spades for a finesse.

West took the king of spades and led his other diamond to dummy's ace. Declarer led a low club dummy to finesse with the jack, drew trumps with the ace and queen, and ruffed his last heart in dummy.

It was now time to make the key play in clubs. South could take the rest of the clubs by leading a low club from dummy if East had started with just two clubs. It was necessary to lead the queen of clubs from dummy if West had started with the doubleton ten. No play would work if East had both the king and the ten.

Important Question

The important question was: which opponent had started with only two clubs?

When South ruffed his last heart in dummy East discarded a diamond. This meant that West had started with a six-card heart suit. West had followed to three rounds of spades and two rounds of

Kennedy Sister Forsakes Party For Football

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Sargent Shriver eyed the tough football game longingly as her 500 guests milled around. Finally the urge was too great. She ran across the sloping lawn, kicked off her shoes and joined in.

It wasn't long before the 44-year-old sister of the late President John F. Kennedy was making a flashy end run in her blue flowered dress, clutching the ball firmly with a young tackler in hard pursuit.

Her son, Mark, 1½, who sports a Beagle haircut, cheered her on. She huddled with son Timothy, 6, to go over strategy.

When the game ended, she slipped into her shoes, returned to her guests and proudly reported "our side won once."

The guests had bought $3.75 tickets for the Sunday party at the Shriver home in suburban Rockville, Md., as a benefit for the building fund of Holy Cross church in neighboring Garrett Park. The Rev. Louis Quinn happily told guests "we've built a church, a school and a convent. This party will help us build a rectory."

Mrs. Shriver, the former Eunice Kennedy, was one of the top players in the lively family touch football games which became famous during the years her brother was in the White House.

On July 20, she and her husband, Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver, became the parents of their fifth child — Anthony Paul Kennedy Shriver.

He proved he was gifted with good lung power when he was christened Sept. 5. But he wasn't on hand to join the family cheering section Sunday.

his desert retreat, the raven appeared with a whole loaf of bread.

So, here are the two bread recipes . . . one of many in the book, which also includes other special dishes.

DATE-BRAIDED COFFEE CAKE

1 recipe basic sweet dough
2 cups chopped dates
½ cup brown sugar
1-1/3 cups water
1 cup chopped nuts
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 egg yolk
2 tablespoons milk
1-1/2 cup unsifted flour
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon

Prepare dough. Before time to shape dough, combine pitted dates, brown sugar, water, chopped nuts and lemon juice in saucepan. Bring to a boil over medium heat, stirring constantly. Continue boiling until mixture is thick enough to spread, about eight minutes.

Divide dough in half. Roll out each half into a 16x8-inch oblong. Place oblongs on greased baking sheets. Spread half the date filling down center third of each oblong. Cut 15 slits in dough along each side of filling, making strips about one inch wide. Fold strips at an angle across filling, alternating from side to side. Cover, let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about one hour.

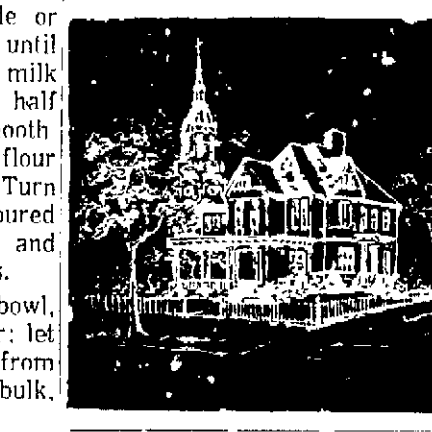

Combine egg yolk and milk. Brush cakes with mixture. Combine flour, butter or margarine, two tablespoons sugar

Elks Roam Western Party Range

Elks 337 Club members and their guests donned six-shooters and boots, leather holsters, 10-gallon hats and all the fancy duds that spelled 'cow-boy' for their Saturday evening party. The 'Chuck Wagon Buffet' featured prime ribs and bar-b-q ribs for the 7 p.m. dining hour.

The dining room boasted a real chuck wagon for the party, at which Mr. and Mrs. George Buckley and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Deltgen were co-chairmen.

Assisting were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Lenz, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Deprez, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gertsch, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Luben, Mr. and Mrs. William Riley, Mr. and Mrs. William Deltgen, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Acker and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stumpf.

Prizes Were Awarded party goers who were 'best dressed' in western tradition for the Elks Fall Roundup.

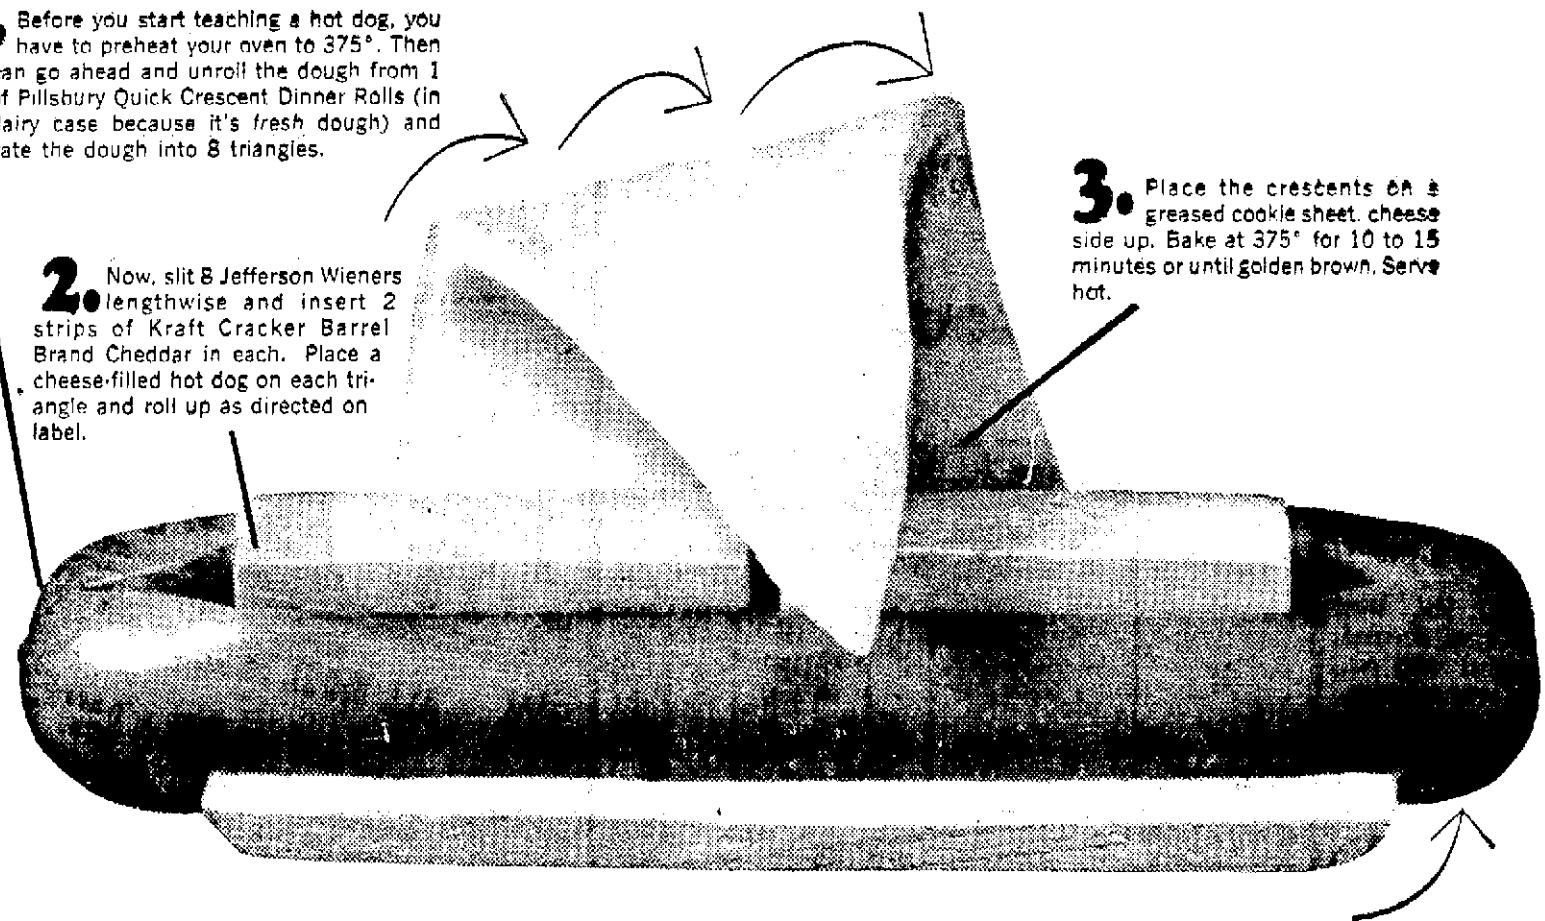

Mr. and Mrs. William Deltgen took second place honors, and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Ulmen rode off with first place.

How to teach a hot dog new tricks:

1. Before you start teaching a hot dog, you have to preheat your oven to 375°. Then you can go ahead and unroll the dough from 1 can of Pillsbury Quick Crescent Dinner Rolls (in the dairy case because it's fresh dough) and separate the dough into 8 triangles.

2. Now, slit 8 Jefferson Wieners lengthwise and insert 2 strips of Kraft Cracker Barrel Brand Cheddar in each. Place a cheese-filled hot dog on each triangle and roll up as directed on label.

3. Place the crescents on a greased cookie sheet, cheese side up. Bake at 375° for 10 to 15 minutes or until golden brown. Serve hot.

There. You've just taught a hot dog how to be a Wiener 'n' Cheese Crescent. And if you really want to be clever, spread a little prepared mustard or catsup and pickle relish on the crescents before rolling. Do that, and you've taught a hot dog another new trick! Every hot dog should know at least two tricks.

Congress Now Heading Into Dull Year End

Yet Observers Say
Session Has Been Most Productive

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — This session of Congress, heading toward a close now, has been the dullest in memory and at the same time the most productive in more than 30 years.

Next year will probably be equally dull, if not as productive. For 1966 is a congressional election year and President Johnson, instead of leading the members down as he did this year, may let them go home early to campaign.

No other Congress in this century, outside of wartime, could match this year's performance unless perhaps it was the one President Franklin D. Roosevelt dealt with in his first few months after taking office in 1933.

Depression Year

Then, with the country in depression chaos, Congress let the president write his own ticket and railroaded through what he wanted to get the nation moving.

But much what it did was subsequently knocked out by one of the most reactionary Supreme Courts in history, which led to Roosevelt's fight with the court. Then the court changed its tune.

It began approving the far-reaching legislation — like the Social Security and Labor Relations acts — which Congress at a much slower pace began passing in 1935.

It's different now, due to a change in American thinking, the needs of the times and the personnel of the court. There's no reason to think this court won't uphold all the legislation passed this year if any is tested.

Little Conflict

What made this year dull was that, while tremendous pieces of legislation were rammed through, there was little real conflict. There were two main reasons for this. Johnson's skill in dealing with Congress and the huge Democratic majorities in the House and Senate.

Besides, much that Johnson proposed and Congress approved had been long debated before he took office. In short, the country had been heading toward it.

Some people don't like Johnson personally, and many are indifferent to him personally, but it's a rare one who won't admit he is an extraordinary politician and perhaps the hardest working president in history.

And no other president was better prepared for understanding Congress — which means knowing the individual members' strengths, weaknesses and interests — than Johnson. He had served in Congress 33 years.

Since in both houses Democrats outnumbered Republicans by more than two to one, this gave Johnson a steamroller to start with and left the Republicans more or less impotent.

Besides, even in the public relations job of getting its views across, the Republican leadership in the House has been pretty inept. Its views are hackneyed, a true hangover from the past.

All this helped Johnson.

But in the Senate, where Democratic presidents in the past suffered anguished ordeals from Republican opposition, the Republican leader, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, has done for Johnson what Johnson did for President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Aided By Dirksen

Dirksen has been cooperative. This was the policy Johnson followed from 1955 to 1961 when he was Senate majority leader and Eisenhower was in the White House.

The Johnson-Dirksen tactics were a drastic switch from what the country had been used to for years.

Republicans in the Senate gave Democratic President Woodrow Wilson the miseries. Roosevelt had trouble with the Republicans. And GOP Sens. Robert A. Taft and Joseph R. McCarthy were always on President Harry S. Truman's back.

$5.2 Million Training School to be Completed by 1967 at Earliest

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Sites in Shawano, Waupaca and Oconto counties were among 48 in 25 counties urged upon the State Department of Public Welfare as desirable locations for a planned $5.2 million training school for delinquent boys.

Final choice of the institution site, which will open at the earliest in the fall of 1967, will be determined by the state board of public welfare after a series of public hearings at which all applicants will be given the opportunity to present their case.

Precise locations were not announced as state officials were processing the applications Tuesday, many of which had been mailed just before the department's deadline, Sept. 27.

To Conduct Tours

From the applications, about half a dozen will be selected as the most desirable. Tours by state officials and engineers will determine the final selection, according to Sanger B. Powers, director of the Division of Corrections of the State Department of Public Welfare.

A schedule of hearings may be adopted by the board when it meets early next month, Powers said.

The welfare department has been delegated the task of choosing the site for the training school, which will house close to 300 delinquent boys in a complex similar to that already in use near Plymouth at the Kettle Moraine School.

'Refreshing Change'

"This is quite a switch for us," said Powers. "We had to fight our way into an area in the past in locating our facilities. The Kettle Moraine school was delayed for a couple of years because of litigation. It is a refreshing change to find that people want us to come into their areas," Powers said.

"To the best of my knowledge all of the sites have either been offered to the state from lands now owned by the counties, or from areas on which the counties have options to buy. We hope we will not have to spend a cent on land this time."

The annual payroll of the institution, which will be staffed by about 165 persons, will be just under $900,000.

Main Criteria

Major criteria for the department in its search are that a site contain a minimum of 300 acres, and preferably close to 600, located at least 10 miles from the closest sizable town.

"Boys will be boys," Powers said. "Some of them are going to leave the school. The chances are far less likely for them to leave, and that they will be successful if we are that distance from a town."

The facility will be essentially like that at the Kettle Moraine School, which is noted for its architectural styling and features. Powers stated that the use of the same basic plans, with a minimum of design changes, will result in a reduced cost, as well as a shortened period before the institution opens.

"We have enough school inmates right now to fill it to capacity," he said. "Every time we admit a boy to one of the two institutions, we have to let one out the back door. The average stay of the boys now is between three and three and a half months at the two schools now in operation."

'Sort Out Boys'

With the opening of the new facility, this time will be lengthened considerably, according to the department's plans.

"When we have this third facility we hope to be able to sort out the boys in the schools," said the division chief. "We see the northern institution as the ideal place for the rural, naive boy. These are the ones in the schools because they are truants, or because they went joyriding in their fathers' cars. This way we will be able to isolate them from the problems of other areas — the rural areas of the state will not be excluded from the institution, however.

will serve as a reception center for court-admitted cases as well. Presently only the Wales school is being used for that purpose. This will allow law enforcement officers to bring inmates a much shorter distance than is now the practice, Powers pointed out.

Proper Help

"If the case is a boy with a serious psychological problem, however, we will still send him to the Wales school where proper help is available to him," according to Powers.

Eligible counties for the location of the school are all those lying all or majorly north of a line from La Crosse to Manitowish, according to the law passed by the legislature.

The need for an institution in that area is shown, Powers said, in a one-year study conducted by his division. In that time more than 360 inmates were admitted to the two existing schools from those counties, a figure larger than the planned school population. The Delinquent youths from other parts of the state will not be excluded from the institution, however.

Report Bar Unit Okays Reynolds For Judge Post
MILWAUKEE (AP) — The American Bar Association's standing committee on the federal judiciary reportedly has given favorable consideration to former Gov. John W. Reynolds as a prospective federal judge for the Eastern District of Wisconsin.

Albert E. Jenner Jr., Chicago, chairman of the committee, said the group had returned a report on Reynolds that "was not adverse."

Jenner said Reynolds' name was submitted to the 12-member committee by the Department of Justice. Four ratings were available to the committee—unqualified, qualified, well-qualified and exceptionally qualified. He said the committee was not permitted to disclose which of the four ratings had been given to Reynolds.

Jenner said Reynolds' name was the only one thus far submitted to the committee.

The former Democratic chief executive, now practicing law in Milwaukee, is believed likely to be appointed to succeed U.S. District Judge Kenneth P. Grubb of Milwaukee when Grubb, who is 70, retires.

Alfred W. Peterson
MADISON — "It has been a lot of fun. My only regret is that I have been such a spendthrift with your money," Alfred W. Peterson, University of Wisconsin vice president and trust officer, jokingly told the school's board of regents as he announced his retirement next June.

During his 40 years of effective service to the school, the institution's total budget has grown from less than $6 million to more than $143 million. And over the same period enrollment has climbed from less than 8,000 students to more than 46,000.

"This supplies a dimension to the responsibility which A. W. Peterson has discharged with such distinction. He deserves the gratitude of the people of Wisconsin," said university president Fred Harvey Harrington.

Enrolled in UW

Peterson left his native Waupaca almost a half century ago to start a career in financial management in a Minnesota banking institution and gained one of the highest positions in the superstructure of the state's largest academic arm.

Born in 1900, he attended elementary and secondary schools in Waupaca. Shortly after high school graduation, he took a position in a Minnesota bank and studied in a commercial college in that state.

A veteran of World War I, he returned to Wisconsin and enrolled in the university. An honor graduate, he was named the school's assistant accountant after serving before graduation as student financial adviser in the dean of men's office.

Receives Promotions

Since that time he has risen through the ranks to a position of responsibility for university investments and the development of modern business administration concepts for higher education in the state and the country.

His career reads like a guide book for hopeful young executives. From assistant accountant he was promoted to assistant to the business manager, comptroller, director of business and finance, vice president of business and finance,

Plans were made to hold the first formal meeting at 7 p.m. Oct. 19 in the board rooms of Kimberly Elementary School at which time organization will be completed and permanent officers elected.

The committee was organized recently in cooperation with the board of education to assist the board with school problems and programs and to investigate ways to improve or better the educational system in the district.

Committees To Discuss Trash Burning

Outdoor trash burning in Appleton will be discussed at a joint meeting of the city council's public safety and street-sanitation committees at 4:30 p.m. Monday.

Ald. Roy Pomier (14th), street-sanitation committee chairman, asked to meet with the other group to discuss the summer burning ban which ends Friday.

More Pickups

There is the possibility that additional trash pickups over the present every-two-weeks system may be considered.

Public works director Robert W. Bues says the volume of trash and rubbish collections increased by about 50 per cent this summer after the ban went into effect.

Fire and police department officials report that Appleton residents cooperated with the voluntary no-burning policy.

Publicist of Bears Says Tilt 'Just Turned'

Packer Injured Take Part in Tuesday Workout

Post-Crescent News Service
GREEN BAY — The Bears had their advance man in our town Tuesday. . . and this time he really had something to cry about.

Dan Desmond isn't the type to use the towel even when the Bears are roaring, but he was fresh from viewing the Rams' 30 to 28 victory over George Halas' team.

The Bears held a 28-9 lead going into the fourth quarter when the Rams scored 21 points, the winner coming in the last 34 seconds.

People up in these parts know how it feels to lose one like that. The Packers of 1952 held a 28-6 lead on the Rams with 12 minutes left in the game in Milwaukee and, zippo, Bob Waterfield and Co., went crazy. The final score was the same as last Sunday's Los Angeles shocker.

Won Next Game

It might be interesting to note that the Packers won their next game, beating Dallas 24-14. . . in case you're wondering how the Bears will react to their horrible experience.

"We just couldn't understand it. The game turned around just like that," Desmond said, snapping his finger at the Mike and Pen Club meeting Tuesday.

"After we took a 28 to 9 lead at 12:10 of the third quarter they ran off 34 offensive plays and we had only nine, and two of those were punts, the rest of

Twin City rivals, Neenah and Menasha, clash in a Mid-Eastern Conference battle of unbeaten at 1:30 p.m. Saturday on the Bluejays' Calder Stadium gridiron.

The other members of the M-E's pace-setting triumvirate, Clintonville, travels to Two Rivers in search of a third straight loop conquest. The third Saturday matinee sends Shawano to Kaukauna.

Kimberly and New London clash on the Bulldogs' turf Friday night. The Papermakers of Coach Jack Wippish and Coach Larry Graves' Bulldogs are 1-1 in conference action.

Neenah will be out to avenge the lone blot on its 1964 record. The Bluejays, coached by Tom Weede, blanked the Harland Carl-mentored Rockets, 7-0, in wind and rain one year ago.

Neenah dropped its non-conference lid-lifter, 19-13, to a rugged Eau Claire Memorial unit before posting 35-20 and 28-7 M-E triumphs over Kaukauna and Kimberly, respectively.

While Menasha boasts a 3-0 overall record, it might be mentionable that none of the Bluejay victims have been successful to date. The Jays opened with a 13-0 conquest of Berlin and followed with M-E wins over Two Rivers (27-7) and Shawano (19-13). Berlin, Two Rivers and Shawano sport 0-3 records for the season.

Defensive Heroics Again

Adderley Player of the Week

MILWAUKEE (AP)— One of the best offensive weapons of the Green Bay Packers in the early stages of National Football League warfare has been the defensive heroics of Herb Adderley.

His play Sunday against the Baltimore Colts won the 6-foot-1 speedster recognition by The Associated Press as the defensive Player of the Week in the NFL.

All Adderley did was to intercept two of Johnny Unitas' passes and recover a fumble.

The former Michigan State halfback raced 44 yards for a touchdown in the second period after grabbing a Unitas pass intended for Jimmy Orr. He also picked off a pass in the first period and ran it back 42 yards to the Colts' 14.

In the final period Adderley recovered a fumble that broke the back of a Baltimore drive which had moved the ball to the Packer 23 with 55 seconds left.

In the opener against Pittsburgh Adderley was equally as effective. He intercepted a Bill Neisen pass and scored on a 34 yard runback. He followed with another interception in the third period as the Packers exploded for a 41-9 victory.

Four interceptions in two games give Adderley the lead in the NFL and that's as many as he had all last season. Adderley's feat of two touchdowns in two games is just one shy of the league record set by Dick Lynch of the New York Giants in 1963, and Adderley has 12 more games to surpass it.

McKee, Callaway, Taggart and Hietpas Were '64 AHS Graduates

BY JIM HARP
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

When Appleton's Lawrence University dedicates the new Lawrence Bowl Saturday, there will be a definite home-town flavor on the football squad which will be going against St. Olaf College.

The Vikings will have four starters on their squad who are graduates of Appleton High School. The quartet includes two offensive and two defensive regulars, all are sophomores and all are 1964 spring graduates of AHS.

On offense, Chuck McKee is expected to open at quarterback, and Tom Callaway will be at an end spot. In the defensive lineup, Gary Hietpas will be middle-linebacker and Chip Taggart will be at a defensive halfback spot.

Excellent Poise

McKee displayed excellent poise in leading the Vikes to the 35-7 win over Carleton in the season opener Saturday. He scored a touchdown in the first period and ended up as the game's top rusher with 71 yards in 11 attempts. He also completed eight of 13 passes for 59 yards.

McKee is 19 years old, weighs in at 180 pounds and stands 6-0. He was an all-Fox River Valley Conference selection in football and was on the second all-conference squad in basketball. McKee earned two football, two basketball and three track letters while in high school. In addition to quarterbacking, he operates at a safety spot on defense for the Vikes. McKee is taking a pre-med course at the school.

Callaway made a successful debut at end for Lawrence as he grabbed a pair of passes. The 18-

That's happened a league-leading 15 times this year, which is just about normal for the 32-year-old outfielder who's spent 12 years with 15 minor league teams and three major league teams before he got a break with the Dodgers this season.

He got the break because of a break in Tommy Davis' ankle early in May. But no sooner had he been called up from Spokane than Johnson found himself hit in the head by a pitch from Houston's Bob Bruce. That pitch punctured Johnson's batting helmet and put him in the hospital for three days.

Then, in June, New York's Al Jackson put him out of action for 13 days by hitting him on the thumb.

But Johnson at least had the return of the money to fans who didn't get tickets.

Tony Cloninger Stops Astros For 24th Win

Becomes Winningest Pitcher Braves Have Had in Milwaukee

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — For every 20 men on the street who have heard of Sandy Koufax, you might not find one who knows who Tony Cloninger is. Yet each has won 24 big league baseball games this year.

Cloninger smoked the ball past Houston hitters Tuesday night for a 7-1 victory, his 24th of the season against 10 losses. He struck out 10, six in the last three innings.

"Was Cloninger fast?" Astro third baseman Bob Aspromonte repeated a question after the game. "He was unbelievable."

The 25-year-old native of Iron Station, N.C., is the winningest pitcher the Braves ever had in Milwaukee.

Spain's Top Was 23

Warren Spahn's top was 23 victories, achieved twice.

The last Brave to win 24 was Johnny Sain in 1948, when the club was in Boston. The only Brave pitchers who won more than Sain and Cloninger were Dick Rudolph, 27 wins, and Bill James, 26 wins, in 1964.

Manager Bobby Bragan intends to give Cloninger a chance Saturday to notch No. 25.

Cloninger lost a shutout in the seventh when Jim Wynn socked his 22nd home run of the year into the left center field seats.

It was the only one of Houston's six hits that did any damage.

Sore Shoulder Bothers Unitas After Packer Tilt

BALTIMORE (AP) — John Unitas, quarterback of the Baltimore Colts, was unable to throw in Tuesday's practice due to a sore shoulder.

The veteran National Football League signal caller injured the shoulder Sunday in Baltimore's 20-17 loss to Green Bay and it wasn't reported until the Colts left Milwaukee for home.

Coach Don Shula said he would see how Unitas responded to treatment before becoming overly concerned.

The Colts meet the San Francisco 49ers in Baltimore Sunday.

Orioles Hold Second Place After Posting Ninth Straight Win

White Sox Split Pair With Tigers; Indians Tip Yanks

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Three things are sure in the 4-3, but the Tigers won the second American League — Minnesota and by the same score with a will finish first. Washington will four run rally in the eighth finish eighth, and there is a capped by Jim Northrup's two-pole scramble for the eight other run triple plays.

After Wednesday's action and the Indians deal with five days left in the season the Yankees their sixth straight pennant-winning Twins and loss, 6-3 also-ran Senators have their spots clinched.

Otherwise — Baltimore's streaking Orioles are in second, just 1½ games ahead of the Chicago White Sox, two games separate the Detroit Tigers and Cleveland Indians in the fight for fourth. New York's sixth-place Yankees have only a one-game edge on the California Angels and the Boston Red Sox are just 1½ games ahead of Kansas City's last-place Athletics.

the game." Desmond said, adding "Sure, we had some defensive injuries but you'd think the offense could have held the ball a little." The Bears were weakened when Earl Leggett, the last of the 11th with his Bill Kucullen and Jim Purnell were hurt.

Weather could have been a factor in the late stages. "It was 71 at kickoff but then it got warmer and it was past 80 when the game was over," Desmond said. The Bears trained at Santa Rosa (near San Francisco) during the week and it is considerably cooler there than it is in L.A.

"The Bears opened the season with a 52-24 loss to the 49ers in San Francisco and, as Dan put it, "We were looking good and got off to a quick 3 to 0 lead. Then the game just changed and we were behind 45 to 3 in the third quarter."

The Bears started Rudy Bukich in San Francisco and Bill Wade entered the game in the second quarter. Wade started the Ram game and got the Bears off to a 14-9 halftime lead. Bukich played the second half, upping the score to 28-9. But Wade never returned in the heat of the fourth quarter, indicating that he might have been hurt.

The Packers drilled briefly Tuesday and all hands were present and accounted for. The four injured players — Bart Starr, Jim Taylor, Paul Hornung and Boyd Dowler — were all running and that's a step in the right direction.

The big test for the hurties comes today when Coach Vince Lombardi launches full-scale drills.

National League Sets Attendance Mark

CINCINNATI (AP) — The National League reported Tuesday it passed the 13 million mark in attendance Monday night, the first time in history either major league has reached such a figure.

Attendance Monday night sent the league total to 13,045,546. Last year the league reached the 12 million mark in attendance for the first time, with a total of 12,045,190.

This also will be the fourth consecutive year for the National League to set an attendance record.

Astros Acquire Bob Saverine

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The Houston Astros have acquired Bob Saverine, a young infielder-outfielder, from the Baltimore Orioles in payment for pitcher Don Larsen, who was sent to the Orioles last April.

Saverine, 24, played mostly center field last season for the Rochester International League club, hitting .267 in 135 games. He was placed on the Oklahoma City roster but will report to the Astros for spring training.

College Grid Attendance On Increase

NEW YORK (AP) — College football attendance this season continues to run ahead of the record pace set last year.

Last week's top 10 games in attendance drew 593,963 fans — an increase of 59,309 over the previous week. It brought the two-week total to 1,128,617.

Official attendance figures released today by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau showed that the biggest college crowd in the country last Saturday was the 81,417 for California's game at Michigan.

The top 10 attendance figures: Michigan-California, 81,417; Ohio State-North Carolina, 80,182; Louisiana State-Rice, 67,510; Texas-Texas Tech, 65,310;

Lemm Displeased With Monday Night Game

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Coach Oct 4, a Monday. It was the Wally Lemm would approve of any way construction of the temporary stands at Busch Stadium, where the baseball Cardinals also play, could be completed in time for an early home opener for the football club.

Discounting the likes and dislikes of Lemm and his players, the National Football League scheduled the Cardinals to play the Dallas Cowboys the night of Purdue-Notre Dame, 61,921; Wisconsin-Southern California, 52,706; Minnesota-Washington State, 46,917; Penn State-Michigan State, 46,157; Florida-Mississippi State, 46,000; Georgia Tech-Texas A&M, 45,843.

games."

The night game creates an even greater problem the following week, he added.

"We lose 1½ days to recover from injuries and to prepare for the next game," Lemm explained. "The day after a game, some of the guys can't even move. We just try to loosen them up on the second day after a game, so that means we don't start practicing in earnest until the third day. That leaves us only three full days to practice."

Lemm also is worried about Dallas, which has won its first two games largely because of its fine defense that allowed only nine points. The Cowboys defeated the New York Giants 31-2 and the Washington Redskins 27-7.

"Dallas has a defense as good, if not better, than Green Bay," said Lemm, whose team lost to Philadelphia 34-27 and then walloped Cleveland 49-13.

Allot 250 Tons of Corn For Feeding Horicon Geese

WASHINGTON (AP)—Another 250 tons of corn to feed geese on the Horicon Marsh National Wildlife Refuge—and thus, hopefully, to prolong Wisconsin's special goose hunting season in the area—has been released to the state's Conservation Department by the Commodity Credit Corp.

An early freeze killed corn that is grown on the refuge to attract and hold the migrating flocks of Canada geese on their way south, and artificial feeding requires approval by the Fish & Wildlife Service.

That approval came from Interior Secretary Stewart Udall, at the urging of Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., after Conservation Department officials said Tuesday, they feared the hungry honkers on Horicon would be forced to make extra feeding forays beyond the refuge perimeter and thus fall early prey to hunters. Hunting in the Horicon area is on a federal quota basis, and when 11,000 geese are killed, federal authorities will call an end to the season.

Last year, the Horicon shooting lasted only 11 days before hunters bagged the quota. This season, the opening weekend brought 1,392 geese into the checking stations, before approval came for the artificial feeding. Ten tons of corn was out Monday and CCC release of the additional 250 tons came Tuesday.

Unemployment Continues to Decline

Economic analysts and forecasters surprisingly and fortunately are seeing one of their pet theories disproved thus far in 1965. For some time they have been predicting a rather dramatic increase in the nation's unemployment figures as the first crop of post-war babies reached age 18. But the latest statistics reveal exactly the opposite situation—the nation's unemployment rate for August stood at 4.5 per cent, the lowest ever during the current business expansion. It is down from an even 5 per cent in February and 5.1 per cent in August of 1964.

"It is a most heartening performance," says Albert T. Sommers, director of economic research at the National Industrial Conference Board, a non-profit business research organization. "The unemployment rate this year is holding well below the levels many observers, including myself, had originally thought possible."

These figures tell the background of the situation. Last year some 2.7 million Americans turned 18. This year the total is 3.7 million. To accommodate these youths, plus many more women seeking jobs, government studies predicted the economy would have to generate 1.5 million new jobs each year in order to keep the unemployment rate down around 4 per cent. But in the decade 1954-64 employment expanded by only 900,000 jobs annually.

Now the analysts are re-examining the statistics. It is obvious a number of new factors are involved.

First, the economy is apparently creating jobs at a rate thought impossible several years ago. This year the job total is spurring by almost two million, twice the 1961-64 average.

Second, the country's intensified effort in Viet Nam is taking some youths off the job market through increased draft calls, and is providing unexpected extra business to a wide range of companies.

Employment is also declining among certain key population groups. As late as 1947 some 54 per cent of teen-age males were in the job force; because more are going on to college this percentage has dropped to 43. For different reasons, the percentage of men and women over 65 still working is also declining. There is even a decline in the number of employed males aged 55 through 64.

The recent employment record also suggests that automation is not the destroyer of jobs it was once feared to be. The unemployment rate for common laborers, for example, has actually declined sharply, from 15.7 per cent in 1961 to an estimated 7.6 per cent at present.

It is certainly too early to predict that this happy situation will continue. The aftereffects of the baby boom will continue for another 10 years at least. It is certainly hazardous to predict that the current rate of business activity and job-creation will also continue for that length of time. But at present the Johnson Administration's goal of 4 per cent unemployment is within sight, may even be reached before the year is out.

'We Just Seem to be Pounding His Feet Into the Ground'

The U. S. Navy as a Polluter

The nation in general has been awakening to the ever-increasing problems of pollution of our streams and lakes as our population increases and the needs for fresh water become more acute. President and Mrs. Johnson have been exerting pressure for various types of clean-up campaigns and reportedly the President has been upset about the aroma from the Potomac. Now it seems that the federal government itself is one of the culprits.

"None of our Navy ships—with the possible exception of several housing barges—have any sewage treatment or retention facilities," reported Senator Gaylord Nelson in letters to the United States Navy and the Coast Guard. "Furthermore, a Navy survey has revealed that most of our Navy ships spend most of their time tied at piers."

In a specific case, the USS Fulton, a submarine tender which is the home of more than 900 men, was moored at a pier in the Thames River at New London, Connecticut. The city health officer finally complained about the pollution caused by the Fulton. A pulverizing and chlorinating system which helped to cut down on the raw sewage dumped directly into the river was developed. Quite obviously it is ridiculous for cities to build costly sewage systems when ships of the United States Navy tie up at their docks and pollute the harbors.

Senator Nelson has introduced a bill which would require all ships using federal waters to be equipped with sewage treatment facilities. The bill will obviously run into trouble because of shipping interests and the efforts of inland cities to attract foreign trade. But our own naval and coast guard ships should not be adding to the local pollution problems.

In Wisconsin a law has finally been passed requiring pleasure boats to be equipped with sewage retention facilities. We certainly should expect the same from federal vessels.

'Lady Bird's Bill'

Among the melancholy ironies of politics and government in our state is the habit of boasting about the generally progressive record of the state government over the decades while our contemporary politicians too often are content to default on current problems and challenges to the national government at Washington.

A nearly perfect example is provided in President Johnson's skillful piloting through the United States Senate recently, in spite of pressures from hostile interests that would have paralyzed a similar proposition in our state capitol, a highway beautification bill that would require the states to begin controlling and limiting billboards along primary and interstate roads by Jan. 1, 1968.

This is "Lady Bird's Bill," as the President coyly explained to reluctant or hesitant members of the Senate. Mrs. Johnson has been stumping the country on a crusade for natural resources conservation and the protection and preservation of our native landscape. Anybody with any pretense of understanding of practical politics is aware that this is marvelously effective politics. But the possibly envious Republican politicians of our own state, for example, have no cause to complain. There was the opportunity for a long time.

They ignored it. They continue to ignore it.

Much of the erosion of function and power and control in state and local affairs and the drift of authority to Washington in our time can be traced to the superior reach of the federal taxing arm and the seemingly limitless federal government borrowing authority. But in conspicuous instances also the national government has invaded new fields simply and demonstrably because local officials have been too cautious, or unimaginative and lazy. The issue of natural beauty exemplifies the sorry trend. We find it difficult to comprehend how contemporary leaders at the state capitol in Madison are willing to stand by while the national government prepares to order them, in effect, to do something they should have done long ago at their own initiative.

Wisconsin is a beautiful state. Its scenic splendors represent its most precious natural endowment. If for no other reason than the relation of the landscape appeal to its profitable tourist traffic, the state government should be responsive on the problem of protecting it and preserving it. The President here has occupied a vacuum, and we have no hesitation whatever in cheering him on.

Days of Tyranny Over — Crescent

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for Sept. 30, 1865.

A newspaper up the street (the Appleton Motor) is very anxious to know our views on the recent opinion of the Attorney General of this State upon an Act of Congress providing for the disenfranchisement of all men who "skedaddled" from the draft!

That can be done very simply and easily. The Attorney General's opinion on that subject, or on any law of Congress is just as valuable as the opinion of a Door County Justice, and not one atom more.

No man can be deprived of any legal right, privilege or prerogative in this State until legally convicted by a jury of his country.

Any Supervisor who refuses to register a voter upon a report he deserted from the draft, or from the army, should be indicted and posed cuted according to law. The laws for the arrest and punishment of deserters from the draft, or from the service, are ample and United States officers abundant to arrest all accused of such an offense.

Lincoln is dead and unlicensed tyranny will no longer be quietly submitted to in Wisconsin.

Taylor Writes

Prosperity at Home Obscures Crisis In Our Balance of Payments Debit

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR

Behind the scenes, our balance of payments position has been forcefully weakened again. But with the Great Society's expanded spending who would know it?

Taylor

Our gold reserve stands at its 27-year low: $13.9 billion. We have already lost $15 billion this year. Yet U. S. Government securities held for foreign account, a potential claim on our remaining gold with which our public is hardly familiar, rose another $118 million in September.

This boosts that gigantic claim to $7.3 billion.

The soundness and value of our dollar works its way into every phase of our lives and is decisive in every family's future. Our pay, pensions, savings and security are rooted in this. But nearly everything politicians tell us about this merely muddles the confusion. They spend. We pay. They come and go. And we and our children are left to foot the bill for the political magic.

TREND AGAINST US

Our "balance of payments problem" is just a soft definition for our gold crisis. And it is simply not true, as Washington spasmodically implies, that we have stabilized our gold crisis. The trend continues decidedly against us.

In fact, our gold reserve has fallen so low and claims against it have grown so great that a recovery is not certain.

In 1941 the ratio of our gold stock to non-gold currency and deposits, omitting deposits in savings banks and savings and loan associations, was 24.6 per cent. Today it is less than 4 per cent.

Meanwhile, the taxpayers' dollars pour out of our Treasury like daisies on a "the world loves me, the world loves me not" basis to 82 countries, as if we are merely trying to see which petal is at the bottom of the barrel.

The Washington spenders have sent up many trial balloons about the need for a new international monetary system. They have also planted numerous speeches that deal with everything except the politically painful fact that an extravagant government ultimately washes the peoples' currency down the drain. Where in the entire world has there ever been an exception?

Even Treasury Secretary Henry Fowler's recent whirlwind (perhaps too whirlwind) trip abroad obscures this.

Mr. Fowler visited the most important European nations who now, somehow, call themselves our creditors.

He made an excellent personal impression. This, of itself, was badly needed. Former Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon had left such a long trail of contradictions and such overly optimistic predictions that the force of anything he said slid steadily downhill.

But the leading bankers in Britain, France, Germany, etc., still found themselves talking generalities with Mr. Fowler.

Fowler said a new international monetary plan was needed. But, in truth, Washington has none. France's largest commercial banker said to me in Paris: "We have heard of a plan. Where is it? We are told time is pressing. Mr. Fowler said that, and this is true. But the U.S. Government give us nothing really tangible to discuss."

TIME IS PRESSING

The head of a famous bank in Germany, a man many regard as the most consequential banker on the continent, told me the same thing in Frankfurt. They he added a private and highly confidential observation: "Apparently your politicians force many U.S. monetary decisions to be taken on the basis of inappropriate criteria, wrong analysis and a disregard for the relevant facts in the outside world."

Yet time is pressing, as agreed, and just France and Germany between them now control enough dollar balances, payable in gold, to force us off the gold exchange basis anytime they issue the call.

Bonn is not bearing down on our dollar. Actually, the central bankers abroad have cooperated handsomely in the technical (and essentially temporary) devices constructed to protect the dollar. They have a great stake in its stability and make no bones about this. But, ah, De Gaulle!

De Gaulle himself has written that a great leader must possess something that is "indefinitely mysterious." And one European statesman, an Italian, spoke to me of De Gaulle's "perfect disdain for reality." The mystic Frenchman's monetary proposals, along with his ability to smack our dollar, leave us in no position to safely protect ourselves if Washington's super-spending continues.

Neutral Law Enforcement in Canada Praised

There is an impassive neutrality about Canadian law enforcement which is enviable. Take the case of a Windsor night club proprietor out on bail after being charged with puncturing a patron with a pistol bullet. He fired after the gunshot victim and three other men began breaking up his club.

But that isn't the end of it. The brawlers also face charges, with no exception made for the man who stopped the bullet.

On this side of the river the prosecution would begin by deciding who was the offender and who the offender. It might be the trouble-maker who would be held, or it could be the fellow who was quick on the trigger. But to see both considered sufficiently guilty to take into court would be rarer than the oft-cited blue moon.

The evident principle in Canada is whether public peace and safety were shattered, and by how many. It makes no difference how individual disagreements figured in what could be called the total melee.

Canada's way is better. Statistically, it affords a 100 per cent greater incentive for not rupturing peace and safety.—Detroit Free Press.

"Clancy, how many times have I told you not to get emotionally involved with others?"

First Deliberations Of New Coordinating Group Is Inconclusive

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON—It would be unrealistic to expect any clearcut policy revisions or even patterns of thought at the first meeting of the reorganized and presumably more independent Coordinating Committee of Higher Education which came into being a fortnight ago.

Wyngaard

Holder members of the committee were naturally reticent at the first meeting of the reconstituted overseer board in Wisconsin higher education, knowing that the new act put the majority control into the hands of Gov. Knowles' appointees. New members, conversely, were quiet and restrained out of an intelligent regard for their inexperience and to some degree, lack of knowledge of the system they were chosen to govern and the multifarious problems it will be their responsibility to handle.

In a detached appraisal, there was some encouragement to believe that the reorganization will be improvement. There was also some reason to believe at the first meeting that the habit of automatic endorsement of the wishes of the professional officeholders, will be hard to eradicate.

KOHLER CHOSEN

Perhaps the most important result of the first session was the easy acceptance of the idea that Walter J. Kohler, the former governor, was the best choice as chairman.

It is fair to say that of all the men and women in Wisconsin who would be likely to be considered for appointment to an unpaid seat on the CCHE, Kohler's rank, reputation and record better fit him for the responsibility of chief officer than almost anyone who readily comes to mind.

Yet with all that said, an observer found himself wondering at the Committee's first exploratory deliberations whether some of the members yet have a complete understanding of the dimensions of their tasks or their powers.

The committee has an awkward name. There is an implication in it about a supernumerary identity. That impression is shown by the reaction of news editors, among others. Yet the fact is that this board of higher education, which it is in effect, has the final responsibility in Wisconsin higher education. It has the duty and power to direct the activities of its several systems and programs.

The Boards of Regents which have thus far a greater prestige out of habit and tradition and previous statutory position, cannot build a building or launch a new course of study or file an appropriation request with the legislature without the explicit endorsement of the Coordinating Committee. It has similar and final authority over the state program of vocational and adult education, and the surviving county colleges.

HINTS

There were several hints in the first committee deliberations that its members did not yet wholly apprehend the intentions of the authors of the recent reorganization act, on the one hand, or their real powers and obligations, on the other.

Examples were given in the preliminary arrangements about staffing, and again in the quick and unceremonious ratifications of a University of Wisconsin faculty salary request to the legislature. The university regents doubtless were persuaded of their duty to file such a request for more faculty pay raises, on the basis of their own extensive knowledge and preceding deliberations. But a majority of the members of the Coordinating Committee, with higher authority and responsibility, could scarcely have come to any firm conclusions during the few moments of explanation and discussion of the motion which implied that the political policymakers at the capitol had made a grievous error.

Such reflections are possibly premature and therefore unfair. Yet they illustrate the complexities of the tasks of the men chosen for the reorganized CCHE in managing what is by all odds the most important single program now operated by the state government of Wisconsin.

Strictly Personal

Human Life Span May Well Be Doubled Soon

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

At a conference last year, on the subject "The Environment of Change," Francis Bello, one of the editors of the Scientific American, remarked that "the greatest impact of science on society will occur when disease and aging have been controlled so that the human life span has doubled."

Harris

One of the most troublesome paradoxes of our time is that just as we are becoming gravely concerned about the population explosion, medical science is finding new ways to keep more people alive longer.

On the one hand, we are conquering old diseases and lowering the infant mortality rate drastically, on the other, we are beginning to realize that even a two per cent annual increase in world population per year will leave us with standing room only by the 21st Century.

But the problem of space is only one of many raised by recent medical advances. Bello asks us to consider the ethical problem that will be posed "when it becomes possible, by means of organ transplants tion and use of artificial organs, to keep a person alive indefinitely."

Progress in this area, the conference was told, is now so rapid that organ replacement, on a routine basis, may be possible within the next 10 or 15 years. Even an artificial heart is not out of the question for our children's time.

"Will there be enough organs to go around?" asks Bello. "And who will be in charge of their distribution?" Can anyone doubt that full government participation will be needed to guarantee approximately equal medical care for all members of society? Without equality, the disparity in care received by rich and poor — already wide enough — could become scandalous.

This is one of the most dramatic examples of what I meant in Monday's column, when I observed that the acceleration of science and technology that has been largely made possible by capitalism may turn out to undermine the system more effectively than any of the Marxian formulas.

The world of the future, as it seems to be shaping up today, will fit into none of the rigid ideologies of the past, from Adam Smith to Karl Marx. Both lived, and thought, in economies of scarcity; in the new economy of abundance, we must learn to revise our ideas as basically as we have changed our machinery and our modes of living.

Texas Western Leads Nation In Total Offense

Dartmouth's 102-Yard Yield Leads Defensively

NEW YORK (AP) — It's the year of the pass for Texas Western and the unheralded Miners, only major college team to go winless last season, have spun off two straight high-scoring victories through their new airborne offense.

Texas Western leads the nation in total offense, figures released by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau showed today.

The Miners have gained 1,018 yards in their two-games — only 87 along the ground. The remainder has come through the air. Texas Western leads the major college teams in passing offense with 931.

The top defensive team in the country is Dartmouth, which yielded just 102 yards in 56 plays against New Hampshire last Saturday. The Indians also lead the rushing defense category with minus-38 yards allowed in 31 rushes against their line.

Bobcats Set Exhibition Tilt Oct. 9

Green Bay Sextet To Face Powerful Minnesota Rangers

GREEN BAY — Green Bay's Bobcats, already at work, are honing their blades for the earliest opener in their history.

The Bobcats, who have been skating since Sunday, will debut against the powerful Minnesota Rangers, defending champions of the Central Professional Hockey League, in an exhibition game at the Brown County Veterans Memorial Arena Saturday night, Oct. 9, General Manager Coach John Mayasich announced today.

The Minnesota sextet is the top farm club of the New York Rangers, Mayasich said, adding, "Most of their players are now in training with the Rangers in Ontario. Those who do not make the parent Rangers will be assigned to the Minnesota club."

Good Test
"It will be a good test for us," Mayasich pointed out, "because we will be facing faster competition than we will in our league (the United States Hockey League)."

Tickets are now on sale at the Arena box office at the regular prices, $1.50, $2 and $2.50 for reserved seats and $1 for general admission, he announced. "Tickets for this game are not included in the season ticket package," he added.

The Bobcats, bolstered by the return from Finland of 1963's most valuable player, Jerry Sullivan, and the addition of ex-Marquette Iron Ranger John Harpell and former Waterloo Black Hawk Fred DeVuono, will open their USHL season against the Fox Valley (Ill.) Astros here Saturday night, Nov. 6.

Cardinals' Charlie Johnson Named NFL's Offensive Player of the Week

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — This week's NFL Offensive Player of the Week in the National Football League was Dallas Cowboys' quarterback Charlie Johnson, the blond bomber of the St. Louis Cardinals, is The Associated Press' Offensive Player of the Week in the National Football League.

Johnson threw six touchdowns Sunday against the Browns in the 49-13 rout and touchdown and sped 11 yards on was only one short of the record set by Sid Luckman, Adrian Burke and Y. A. Tittle.

Given plenty of time to throw, Johnson picked his spots carefully and hit with 11 of 19 passes for 310 yards. He sat out the last quarter while Buddy Humphrey took over. The Browns smeared Johnson behind the line only once for a loss of nine yards. The Sonny Randle, who caught sev-

Schofield (3-0) moved up one notch to sixth place after a 14-0 conquest of Marshfield. A newcomer to the standings, Menomonie (3-0), embarrassed La Crosse Central (1-2) 40-13, to take over seventh place and emerge as the favorite for Big Rivers Conference laurels. Central had been the pre-season favorite for the crown.

Another newcomer, Wisconsin Rapids Assumption (3-0) tied Chippewa Falls (3-0) for ninth place in the standings.

Assumption defeated Chippewa Falls McDonell 28-0 and Chippewa Falls chewed up Mondovi 52-7, dropping Mondovi from the unbeaten ranks.

In the "Little Ten," Thorp (4-0) and Chilton (3-0) remained Greenwood's nearest competitors for the second straight week as second-ranked Thorp whipped Neillsville 25-7 and third-ranked Chilton dropped New Holstein 13-6, dumping the ninth-ranked team (2-1) out of the ratings.

Out of Ratings
Ladysmith (2-2) also fell out of the ratings, dropping a 19-12 verdict to Barron (4-0), which used the victory to move from unranked status to No. 9.

Ladysmith had been ranked fourth. Grafton (2-1) also took it on the chin last weekend as unranked Germantown snapped its 15 game winning streak 7-0. Garfton managed to hang on in the ratings, although dropping from fifth to 10th place.

St. Croix Falls (4-0) joined "Little Ten," taking seventh place after a 33-7 victory over Amer.

Moving up in the select group were Onalaska (4-0), Peshigo (4-0), Holcombe (4-0) and Winneconne (3-0).

Winneconne to Face Brillion's Challenge Next

Denmark Invades Freedom for Key Little Nine Game

LITTLE NINE CONFERENCE

Denmark	2	1	0
Freedom	2	1	0
Reedsville	2	1	0
Wrightstown	2	1	0
Brillion	1	1	1
Omro	1	1	1
Hortonville	1	2	0
Hilbert	0	3	0
Shiocton	0	3	0

Unbeaten Winneconne faces the Little Nine Conference's newest member, Brillion, Saturday afternoon to feature action which is spread over three days this week.

Conference play gets underway Thursday night, when Omro will be at Shiocton. Three games are on tap Friday with Denmark at Freedom, in a key second-place battle; Wrightstown will visit Hortonville and Reedsville travels to Hilbert.

Winneconne has sailed past three opponents, the latest win being a 32-0 triumph over rival Omro last weekend. The Wolves have displayed a crunching ground attack and hard-nosed defense which has kept opponents in check.

Roll Up 90 Points
The Wolves have rolled up 90 points in their first three games, winning by scores of 33-0, 25-0 and 32-0 and will be out to protect their unscathed-upon status.

Brillion came up with its first conference win last week, downing winless Hilbert, 13-0. The Lions will have to be at their peak to put the damper on the Winneconne express.

Omro goes after its second win against winless Shiocton Thursday night. Omro will be hoping to rebound after last week's trouncing from Winneconne.

Winner of the Denmark-Freedom battle will play in the win over Shiocton last week, running for the conference crown while the loser will probably slip to a second-over winless Hilbert.

Brown Tops in Rushing

Starr Ranks Third in Passing, Brodie Leads

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Brown's Sunday gain of 110 yards was wasted as Cleveland absorbed a 49-13 beating by St. Louis but Willard and Frederickson made their yardage count in victories for the 49ers and Giants.

Willard, the North Carolina fullback who was a whiz in the All-America game last summer at Buffalo, gained 88 yards on 19 carries in San Francisco's 27-17 victory over Pittsburgh. Frederickson, the Giants' No. 1 draft pick from Auburn, gained 76 in 17 attempts and had one long touchdown run called back because of a penalty. Brown's total is 175, Willard's 125 and Frederickson's 124 yards.

Passing Leader
John Brodie of the 49ers hit with 16 of 20 for 236 yards and one touchdown, maintaining his passing lead. Charley Johnson

Rich's Wins to Take Lead in Touch Football

KAUKAUNA — Rich's Bar, with a 2-0 mark, took over first place in the Touch Football League after downing Bob and Mary's Bar 12-7 Monday night. The losers have a 1-1 record.

The winners scored a touchdown in the second period on a Dale Bundy to Dick Promer of St. Louis is way out front in total yardage with 693 and nine touchdowns. The standings are based on percentage of completions and interceptions. TJ's passes and average yards gained.

Herb Adderley of Green Bay intercepted two passes against Baltimore in an exciting 20-17 Packer victory and scored his second TD of the year. His four interceptions, tops in the league, have accounted for 155 yards.

Frank Lambert, the Mississippi punter now at Pittsburgh, leads the league with a 48.4-yard average. Gale Sayers, the Kansas flash who runs back kicks for the Chicago Bears, is tops in that department and Al Nelson, Philadelphia rookie, leads the kickoff return men.

Sonny Randle who caught three touchdowns passes for the Cards last week in their rout of the Browns leads the league in scoring with 24 points.

Outlook Remains Bleak for Cease-Fire In India, Pakistan

Neither Side Shows Signs of Withdrawing From Positions

By CONRAD FINK
NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The outlook for the India-Pakistan cease-fire remained bleak today as both sides made new demands and neither showed any sign of withdrawing from positions seized during their undeclared war.

A spokesman for the Indian Foreign Office said the withdrawal of armed personnel should include an estimated 3,000 guerrillas the Indians claim Pakistan trained, equipped and sent into the Indian sector of Kashmir for subversion and sabotage.

Pakistan has denied the Indian claim, contending that the guerrillas whose operations touched off the war are Kashmiri nationalists fighting for freedom from Indian control.

Indian Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri told newsmen the most urgent task facing the U.N. Security Council "is to ask Pakistan to desist from its declared path of aggression."

Shastri said Pakistan had been threatening in the Security Council to unleash a wide conflagration if its desires were not met. He said India had accepted the cease-fire voted by the council "in complete good faith, unconditionally but not unilaterally."

Shastri said Indian forces were under strict orders not to violate the cease-fire, but he added "Indian forces are under instructions to defend themselves wherever and whenever attacked by Pakistan."

Pakistani Foreign Minister Z. A. Bhutto, speaking to the U.N. General Assembly in New York, proposed that both Indian and Pakistani forces in Kashmir be replaced by a U.N. peace force as the prelude to a plebiscite to determine the future of the disputed Himalayan state.

Bhutto repeated that Pakistan would consider withdrawing from the United Nations — if the Security Council did not work out a permanent solution of the 18-year-old Kashmir dispute within a reasonable time.

Shastri already has said that India would not agree to a U.N. peace force, and that India is adamantly opposed to a plebiscite in Kashmir. Most of the state's people are Moslems and the Indians assume they would vote for independence from Hindu-dominated India or union with Moslem Pakistan.

Home Rule Bill In Amendment Stage in House

Backers Confident They Can Put Over Compromise Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The District of Columbia home rule bill enters the crucial amendment stage in the House today, with its backers still confident they can put over a bipartisan compromise.

But the pending business of the House is a substitute offered by Rep. B. F. Sisk, D-Calif., calling for a referendum to see if District residents want home rule, and then an election of a board to work out a city charter.

There was a possibility that other amendments would be disposed of too. More than 20 of them were lying on the speaker's table when the House adjourned Tuesday night.

Complete Debate

The House completed two days of general debate late Tuesday. Several opponents said it was unfair to label them anti-civil rights or anti-Negro when they opposed home rule on constitutional grounds. Washington is more than 50 per cent Negro.

Under Sisk's plan, the charter board would have seven months to map out the kind of government the city should have, and would have $300,000 to hire experts on municipal government. Then the charter would be submitted to the voters, and finally to Congress.

Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., opposed the Sisk proposal on the ground that Washington residents have overwhelmingly approved home rule in previous referenda. The capital now is governed by Congress and a three-man commission appointed by the President.

Payroll Tax Savings Seen in Wisconsin

MADISON (AP) — The State Industrial Commission said today that Wisconsin employers will save about $4 million in payroll taxes for unemployment compensation in 1966.

Commission chairman Joseph Fagan said the solvency contribution rate was high enough in July to set up the reduction. The solvency contribution is made by all employers to finance firms with overdrawn unemployment compensation funds.

"These savings will help offset the higher basic contributions due in 1966 under the law's new $3,600 wage base, to be raised from the 1965 base of $3,000," Fagan said.

Relatively low unemployment rates contributed to the reduction.

Actors Watch Federal Aid to Arts Bill Signed by LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, with a distinguished group of actors, writers, scholars and educators looking on, signed today legislation providing federal aid for the arts.

He announced at the ceremony that the federal government, working with state and local governments as well as private organizations will:

- Create a national repertory theater to bring ancient and modern classics to audiences all over America.
- Support a national opera company and a national ballet company.
- Create an American film institute, bringing together leading artists of the film industry, outstanding educators and young men and women who wish to pursue art as their life's work.

Commission new works of music by American composers and support symphony orchestras.

Bring more distinguished artists to schools and universities by creating grants for their time in residence.

In a speech before signing the legislation, Johnson described art as the nation's most precious heritage.

The legislation creates the National Foundation for the Arts and the Humanities to make grants and otherwise stimulate interest in the arts.

The new law makes about $20 million of federal money available for the program in each of the next three years.

Allies Drive Off Advance of Big Guerrilla Force

2,000 Viet Cong Estimated in U. S., Viet Nam Action

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A U. S. spokesman announced today that South Vietnamese forces and U.S. planes beat off an attack by one of the largest Viet Cong concentrations in several months, possibly more than 2,000 guerrillas.

The spokesman said no further fighting was reported today in the area 45 miles northwest of Qui Nhon and 295 miles northeast of Saigon.

The government force of two battalions suffered moderate losses and many Viet Cong were believed to have been killed by U.S. air strikes, the spokesman said, but no body count was made.

The action took place in the area of Phu Cu Pass, where the Viet Cong suffered heavy losses in a battle last week.

Red Attack

Two Communist battalions launched a two-pronged attack Tuesday against the Vietnamese troops from the east and west while two other battalions struck from the southwest.

U.S. intelligence sources have said the Viet Cong have begun a buildup in Binh Dinh Province, in which Qui Nhon is located. Top Vietnamese military officers said earlier in the week they believed that North Vietnamese troops are operating in the province.

U.S. paratroopers ended the longest operation of the war involving American troops Tuesday night in the dense D Zone brush and jungles near Ben Cat, 30 miles north of Saigon.

Vietnamese, New Zealand and Australian contingents also took part in the two-week sweep, which sought to wrest the initiative from the Viet Cong.

Debbie Stalls; Appears to Lose Most Muscle

Tropical Storm Stops Short of Florida Gulf Coast

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Tropical storm Debbie stalled just short of slamming into the lush Gulf Coast of Florida and Alabama today and forecasters said the storm appeared to be losing power.

In a 5 a.m. (EST) advisory, the Weather Bureau said the storm probably would remain stationary about 115 miles south-southwest of Mobile, Ala., for the next 6 to 12 hours while weakening slowly.

"Most warnings will probably be lowered later today," the advisory said.

However, squalls, winds and rains generated by the storm raked hundreds of miles of Florida Panhandle coastline. Wind whipped tides into a pounding surf ate into the beaches.

Head Inland

From the mouth of the Mississippi River to Panama City, Fla., hundreds of people on low-lying islands and beaches sandbagged disappearing foundations or else gave up and went inland.

Many of them were still suffering from the pounding of Hurricane Betsy just two weeks ago. In Louisiana's St. Bernard Parish, people who had returned to their wrecked homesites only a day or so ago had to flee to high ground.

But thousands of others — particularly in the Florida Panhandle which has plenty of squally weather — were contemptuous of Debbie's top winds of 35 to 50 miles an hour. They elected to ride it out at the edge of the Gulf of Mexico despite predictions of tides up to six feet.

"Debbie is a fink," said a young man at a "hurricane party" just 30 feet from the beach at Panama City.

Fresh Water

Mrs. Ilbert Brayshaw calmly ironed her family wash while Debbie's misty winds whistled through holes left in her living room wall by Hurricane Betsy.

Fresh water to those who decided to remain on Santa Rosa Island, just across the bay from Pensacola, was cut when a 65-foot fishing boat was smashed against the water pipe.

However, about 900 persons had already left for the mainland, and two emergency towers

Housing, Transportation Down

Drop in Food Prices Lowers Living Costs During August

WASHINGTON (AP) — A drop in food prices cut living costs two-tenths of one per cent in August — the biggest decline in nearly three years, the Labor Department said today.

Housing and transportation costs also showed slight declines, but clothing and medical care went up.

The two-tenths of one per cent drop in the government's consumer price index brought it down to 110.0 per cent of its 1957-59 average.

This means that typical family consumer items that cost $10 in 1957-59 cost $11 in August.

The drop in living costs was the first downward move since August of last year.

In August 1964 the index was 108.2. Thus the index rise for the 12 months was 18 points.

The last decline in the index as large as two-tenths of one per cent was in December 1962.

Arnold Chase, assistant commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said the approximately one per cent drop in food prices last month was a decline from unusually high prices over the summer.

He said food prices had averaged an increase of one per cent a year over the previous five years, but jumped 3 per cent from May through July of this year.

Chase repeated frequent labor department denials that a new policy barring most foreign farm laborers from this country for temporary harvest work had anything to do with the food price increase over the summer.

Potato prices fell 28 per cent from the record July high but were still 8 per cent above a year ago. Heavy supplies of some fresh vegetables brought price declines ranging from 7.5 per cent for onions up to 25 per cent for tomatoes.

Fresh fruit, including grapes, watermelons and apples, averaged a 4 per cent price drop in August.

Meat prices increased eight-tenths of one per cent over-all. Beef and veal went down a little but bacon jumped 8 per cent.

Eggs, milk and most other dairy products also went up.

In addition to food, used car prices showed a decline unusual for August.

This drop and a decline for gasoline contributed to a decline of five-tenths of one per cent in transportation costs. Housing costs edged down one-tenth of one per cent largely because of rebates in telephone bills in some states.

Lieutenant Governor Asks Health Measures

SPOONER (AP) — Lt. Gov. Patrick Lucey said Tuesday the Legislature should pass a zoning law "which would prohibit refuse disposal on flood plains."

He also advocated legislation authorizing the State Board of Health to require corrective local sewage systems and invoking new regulations for boat toilet controls. Lucey's speech here was one of three he delivered in Northwestern Wisconsin Tuesday.

Will Clear Up Guevara Mystery

Castro Promises to Allow Cubans To Leave with 'No Risk From Us'

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro says any Cubans with relatives in the United States can leave the island after Oct. 10. He also promised to clear up the mystery of Maj. Ernesto Guevara in a few days.

Castro said in a speech Tuesday night he would provide boats to take would-be refugees out of the country and promised: "They will undergo no risk (from us)."

He blamed "the imperialists," his term for the United States, for blocking normal routes for Cubans wishing to leave the country since the October 1962 missile crisis.

"Now they are leaving in small boats, many of them drowning," Castro said, "and they (the Americans) use this as propaganda."

"Not Cuba"

He added: "Now those who want to leave can leave because there are many here remaining who struggle for the people."

Castro repeated that it was not his government that has been preventing the exit of Cubans. "Now we shall see what the imperialists will do or say," he said.

The prime minister said that beginning Oct. 10 any Cuban with relatives in the United States who wanted to leave Cuba for that country could apply to the Interior Ministry.

"Nobody who wants to go need go by stealth," he declared.

He said he would set up port facilities at Camarioca, in Matanzas Province, and ship out those who wanted to leave, "not in our fishing boats but maybe in small luxury craft."

Arrange Pickup

He indicated he expected friends and refugees of the relatives to arrange for them to be picked up a certain distance from Cuba but did not spell this out.

Castro spoke to a mass rally celebrating the fifth anniversary of the Committee for the Defense of the Revolution, his regime's organization of neighborhood spies which includes more than a fourth of the population.

Havana's Revolutionary Plaza was packed for the prime minister's appearance.

Castro said the status of "our comrade" Guevara would be explained in the next few days when the Communist party's National Directorate meets.

He said he would read a document then "which explains Guevara's absence these many months."

Guevara was an architect of Castro's revolution and the regime's industries minister. The absence of the Argentine-born guerrilla leader from public view since last spring has sparked numerous conflicting rumors of his whereabouts.

No Estimate Made by Authorities

TAGAYTAY, Philippines (AP) — The first rescue workers reached the blackened shores of the Taal volcano today and reported "a wide expanse of death and destruction."

There was no immediate casualty estimate from the first to land on the 12-square-mile island in Lake Taal where the volcano erupted at 2:30 a.m. Tuesday. Officials feared a heavy toll among the island's 2,000 inhabitants and in villages along the lakeshore 5 to 10 miles from the island.

The party on the island reported the 964-foot volcano had subsided to occasional rumbles and belches of smoke. The local military commander ordered the evacuation of all persons from low areas around Lake Taal as a precaution against another eruption and an accompanying tidal wave.

184 Bodies

The Red Cross reported 184 bodies recovered on the mainland, 104 of them in the lakeside town of Agoncillo. Many were killed by the great chunks of rock the volcano hurled through the air. Some were enveloped in hot ash and mud and died of burns. The Red Cross said many appeared to have died from fear and shock.

The rescue group on the island reported thigh-deep volcanic mud, with two villages completely submerged in debris. The party said half the island appeared covered with the volcanic mud that rained for eight hours or more after the first eruption.

Survivors who escaped across the lake during the eruption told of a rain of boulders that capsized frail fishing boats in which the island's farm families fled.

Frogmen Search

Frogmen began a search for bodies in the lake, parts of it 600 feet deep. The once clear waters were murky with volcanic ash.

The Red Cross reported 55,000 persons huddled in evacuation camps or along the roadsides. Most had fled from homes around the lake.

Before the eruption, the volcanic island 40 miles south of Manila was a garden spot of meadows, grain fields, thriving farm villages and neat schools.

Kheel recessed the talks until Thursday morning.

Kheel recessed the talks until Thursday morning.

He said "one knotty item" remained to be worked out on the job security issue, which centers on protection for union members classified as extras.

There was no report of progress in the dispute that started the blackout — The strike by the AFL-CIO New York Newspaper Guild against the New York Times Times-Guild negotiations recessed Tuesday night until this afternoon.

The Guild struck the Times Sept. 16 over automation and job security.

GI May Not Think So but Parts of South Viet Nam Are Truly Lovely

BY HUGH MULLIGAN

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—What's it like, this land where nearly 130,000 American military men now find themselves?

Stock Traders Ignore Brakes On Economy

Steel, Housing, Orders on Durable Goods Show Lag

BY SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst NEW YORK (AP) — Enthusiastic stock traders are ignoring several brakes that are currently moderating the rush of the U.S. economy to new highs.

Among the laggards are the steel industry, housing construction and new orders for durable goods. Even the auto industry's confident predictions that a nine-million car sales year will dawn in a few days now are being tempered a bit by the current tussle of dealers to reduce their large stocks of 1965 models.

But the stock market is betting that these problems are short-term. Many traders are convinced that the economy can't be stalled for long, if at all, by current readjustments. And many apparently don't take too seriously the reassurances that inflation can't happen again.

Ample Capacity

Government officials and many corporate economists stress that there is enough idle production capacity to take care of presently indicated demands of the Viet Nam war and of American consumer intentions to buy goods and still leave enough competition to keep prices from soaring. Some bankers aren't that confident that overheating of the economy is unlikely. But they are in a minority and command little attention.

As the economy heads into the fourth quarter—when it is confidently expected to rise to new heights—there are some troubled spots, however temporary they may be.

Steel Lags

One is the steel industry. Output is the lowest since early in February 1964. Protracted labor negotiations this year gave customers lots of time to build up stocks while strike deadlines were twice postponed. Many mills doubt if they'll see much of a pickup in activity for several months.

Construction starts on new houses dropped in August from July and are lagging 7 per cent below the year ago level. The industry talks of better days ahead—but mostly translates "ahead" to mean in a year or two.

New orders for durable goods also were declining in August, and a drop in shipments was reported general throughout most durable goods groups. Here, a pickup is expected this fall. Manufacturers are confident that consumer intentions to buy and business plans to expand will revive new orders and shipments shortly.

War Economy

Business optimism, as well as that of stock traders, is based on belief that the Viet Nam war will demand enough new hardware to keep factories operating at a faster pace, but not enough more to put a strain on production capacity and thus trigger a round of rising prices.

Also counted upon to keep the economy expanding is growing government spending for the "Great Society." A big nudge also is expected from the still increasing outlays of business itself, whether for new plants and equipment or for raw materials and other stocks.

So, as business rounds out the first nine months of 1965, belief that the final months will see much greater activity than forecast earlier is adding new adherents to the ranks of the bulls. And the stock market has seen big trading days and rising prices on many stocks.

Combined Locks Boy Injured When He Runs Into Side of Auto

COMBINED LOCKS — Kevin Lang, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Lang, 208 Lox Court, was taken to Kaukauna Community Hospital Monday afternoon for treatment of injuries he received when he ran into the side of a car.

The boy darted out of the driveway and into the side of a car driven by Richard DeCoster, 101 Edwards St., which was traveling east on Prospect Street.

The Lang boy received bruises on the head and arms. He was taken to the hospital in Larry's Ambulance. The accident occurred at 2:45 p.m.

Some of it is unbelievably lovely.

The mountains in the west, sweeping toward the border of Laos, rise to 7,000 feet and are as dark green and deeply forested as the Canadian Rockies in summer.

The coastal plains on the east, all the way from the 17th Parallel at the border of North Viet Nam, south almost to Saigon, run down to jewel-like bays as beautiful as any in the Caribbean. These abound in broad, empty beaches that would tempt the imagination of a master builder.

Elephant Country

In between, almost at the dead center of Viet Nam, lies elephant country, wide expanses of flat plains tufted with tall grass. Just to the north of that is tiger country, deep jungles where in the days before there was a war hunters used to come to hang on their belts the most prized of all trophies: a tiger paw.

South is the Mekong River delta. Broad muddy rivers run down to the South China Sea in countless rivulets and irrigating a land lush enough in peacetime to feed much of Southeast Asia. The delta occupies one-fourth of Viet Nam's land area and is home to two-thirds of its population.

Here indeed is the inscrutable East of the tourist posters. Flooded rice paddies mirror the merciless noonday sun. Teeming grass-but villages sit on the banks of swift-running estuaries. Thunderheads pile up the afternoon monsoon in a vast brooding sky. Water buffaloes pull ancient plows. Sampans and junks in a endless proliferation swim the muddy canals. Dense mangrove swamps swarm with lizards and snakes. Women in coolie hats carry enormous loads at each end of a shoulder pole.

The Other View

Then there is the other side to the delta never shown in the tourist brochures: sandbagged outposts silhouetted in the glare of flares slowly parachuting to earth in a night attack, schools and churches ringed with concertinas of barbed wire, the bodies of the dead wrapped up in rubber ponchos and stacked along a bridge after a Viet Cong raid.

South Viet Nam is roughly shaped like a sea serpent and almost the size of the State of Washington or Missouri in land mass. It is a country of painful contrasts and glaring contradictions.

Since the Viet Cong began blowing up the bridges and ambushing the convoys, many of the roads don't go any place. The railroad that used to go from Saigon in the south to Hue in the north ends in a tangle of ripped-up track a few miles outside each city.

Still Travel

Still, no matter how unfriendly the terrain as far as Viet Cong infiltrators go, rickety tourist buses traverse what's left of the dusty roads, jammed beyond belief with passengers, loaded with all sorts of bags, boxes and trunks, including bicycles strapped to the roof.

And always, as the bus rumbles along, someone is climbing out the window onto the roof to get at a piece of luggage.

The residents of Saigon, still a Few of the Nearly 130,000 American military men in South Viet Nam will remember scenes as this — a night view of one of the country's beautiful bays. The soldiers are more apt to remember being bogged down in rice paddies with snipers' bullets pinging around them. Gordon Converse, chief photographer of the Christian Science Monitor, recorded this scene on a day away from coverage of the war in South Viet Nam. (AP Wirephoto) gay city despite the war, love to go for a drive on Sunday.

Today the road only goes to Bien Hoa, 14 miles to the east. That doesn't stop the Sunday drivers. All of Saigon, it seems, drives back and forth along the road to Bien Hoa every Sunday, creating a massive traffic jam that includes 20 police squad cars. The U.S. government gave the Vietnamese police to catch speeders in the days when there was any place to speed to.

Agronomist's View An agronomist looking at a map of Viet Nam would have quite a different view of the country than the Sunday driver for that matter, the military tactician. He could follow the rice paddies of the delta north beyond Saigon to well-ordered rubber and coffee plantations, and going steadily north continue in crop progression to the vegetable and truck farms around Dalat, the tea plantations of the middle plateau between the mountains and the coastal plains, and finally the barren, deforested hills of the north around Da Nang and Hue.

An ethnologist would find a distinct French influence still lingering in the larger cities, a small but prosperous population of Chinese merchants and tailors most everywhere, a few Indians engaged in banking and book selling, an impoverished and neglected minority of 800,000 primitive Motagnard tribesmen in the mountainous area. And of course the 13 million Vietnamese, in anything from

Seymour Faces Kewaunee '11'

Bonduel Entertains Oconto Falls in Northeastern Tilt

Pulaski	0 3 0 52

Friday — Algoma at West DePere; Kewaunee at Seymour; Oconto Falls at Bonduel; Saturday afternoon — Pulaski at Oconto; DePere at Sturgeon Bay.

With Northeastern Wisconsin Conference eleven entering the halfway point of their league season, this weekend's West DePere's Black Phantoms find themselves alone at the top of the pack and a solid choice to cop the title.

The Phantoms, who lost the crown they won in 1963 to DePere last year, have jelled into an explosive offensive machine that is complemented with the stingiest defensive unit in the conference.

West DePere had rolled to three successive victories, all easy, in racking up 73 points while allowing the enemy just 13.

Seymour, once the league doormat, lost its first contest of the campaign, but remains a solid threat, along with DePere, Sturgeon Bay and Oconto Falls.

The Phantoms play host to Algoma at Minahan Stadium Friday night.

In other action, Kewaunee moves into Seymour and Bonduel invades Oconto Falls, both Friday night affairs, while Saturday afternoon finds Pulaski at Oconto and DePere at Sturgeon Bay.

Seymour, after suffering a heart-breaking 20-19 decision to Oconto Falls last week, will be favored to rebound this week against Kewaunee. However, Kewaunee isn't likely to play dead and could surprise its hosts.

The Bonduel-Oconto Falls contest would have to be rated a toss-up, since Oconto Falls has been as impressive as pre-season posters figured, and in the Bear showed some improvement in blanking Pulaski last week.

Briefs Seymour School Board On Level of Teachers Salaries

Members Told District Compares Favorably With State Average

SEYMOUR — School board members were briefed on the current level of teacher salaries in the state and how the district compares with them by Supt. Robert Farning, Tuesday night.

Farning told the board the Seymour Education Association is expected to formally seek recognition as the sole negotiating agency for the district's teaching staff. The district's administrators are not expected to be included.

The association has been the informal bargaining agency in the past.

Compares Favorably Seymour compares favorably with schools its size in the basic salaries provided teachers. Schools of comparable size pay an average $5,045 as a minimum for teachers with a bachelor degree.

The Seymour district pays $5,000. The state average is $4,988.

The maximum paid teachers with a bachelor's degree in comparably sized schools is $7,150 and $6,800 at Seymour, but $7,026 on a state average for all schools. Minimum on the master's degree in schools of comparable size is $5,508, $5,400 in Seymour and $5,356 for a state average.

The maximum paid teachers with a masters degree by schools of the same size is $7,990; $7,992 in Seymour and $7,667 for a state average.

The board expressed interest in the possibility the Cooperative Educational Service Agency No. 9 hiring a person to study and interpret federal laws affecting education and education aids and their application to member schools.

In particular, the board expressed an interest in a school nurse in the future. Supt. Farning suggested waiting until interpretations of the new laws were available to see if the district could obtain partial reimbursement for adding a nurse to the school staff.

Farning said County Nurse Marion Freeman is available to the district once a week, but the district was too large to share a nurse with other CESA schools. About a third of the schools in the state have a nurse, he said.

Administrative Aide

The board approved excusing the sophomores and seniors Oct. 11 so the others may take a battery of tests at the schools. The district has 260 freshmen and more than 180 juniors.

The district, overpaid $12,108 in school aids last year, will have that amount deducted from its new aids this year, according to State Department of Public Instruction officials.

District Funds

In a letter to the Black Creek Village Board, Clerk Jean Melchert said the school district would eventually improve the old skating rink area on the school grounds.

The district has $393,398 cash on hand. It has about $85,000 on time deposit and paid bills totaling $91,390.98.

Farning informed the board that Mr. and Mrs. Norman Selmer of Seymour had donated two musical instruments to the district. The district has a number of children whose parents are unable to purchase instruments, Farning said, and the donations will be made available to them.

All sixth grade pupils will participate in the conservation field day program at Apple Hill Farm near Appleton this week, he said. The district has joined the Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic Association for junior high school sports competition purposes.

Two Unions to Notify Thilmany Of Termination

Progress Reported In Truck Drivers Strike Negotiations

Fail to Agree on New Contract Terms At Session Monday

Marathon Talks End at 4:30 a.m. Today; More Scheduled Monday

KAUKAUNA — Officials of Thilmany Pulp and Paper Co. were informed the firm would be served with a termination of contract notice after day-long negotiations between the company and bargaining committees of two unions failed to reach agreement on a new contract Monday.

The termination notice must come from the international union's regional office and might arrive today or Wednesday, according to Hillary Salenpica, president of Local 147, International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Papermill Workers.

The other union represented in the negotiations is Local 20, International Brotherhood of Papermakers.

Expired Aug. 1. Termination of contract notice must be served at least six days prior to a walkout or strike at the plant.

Contract negotiations began July 7. The old contract expired Aug. 1.

No date has been set for additional meetings although both sides expressed a willingness to meet for further discussions if either side called for a meeting.

Members of the two locals voted to give the bargaining committees strike sanction last week. Approximately 1,200 hourly-paid employees are represented by the two unions.

Wages, fringe benefits and some working conditions are reportedly unresolved.

A major issue is employment of a floating shift on six-day operations which the unions desire to eliminate. The company says the type of operation, due to variance in production and orders, makes elimination of the floaters impractical for economical operation.

Phillip Simon, federal mediator, has been participating in the negotiations.

Hartke Wants Probe Of U. S. Steel Imports

Senate Claims 'Steadily Mounting Tide' Is a Threat

WASHINGTON — European countries, particularly France, Italy and the Netherlands, are dumping huge quantities of steel in the U. S.

These shipments are running last year — 10 million tons as against 6.4 million tons in 1961, key points.

“(1) The possibility of unfair, below-cost pricing of steel mill product imports to the United States (2) the impact of ‘employment dislocation’ in the rapidly increasing imports of U. S. and piling an additional steel mill products upon the $1.25 billion on the disturbing U. S. balance-of-payment deficit steel industry and the employment income, and tax revenues Senator Vance Hartke, D-Ind.,

crusading member of the influential Finance Committee. Sweeping Study

Hartke wants President Johnson to launch an immediate sweeping study of this increasingly alarming problem. For this purpose Hartke has introduced a Senate resolution directing the President to have such a study made by the Commerce Department to compile detailed information on four key points.

“(1) The possibility of unfair, below-cost pricing of steel mill product imports to the United States (2) the impact of ‘employment dislocation’ in the rapidly increasing imports of U. S. and piling an additional steel mill products upon the $1.25 billion on the disturbing U. S. balance-of-payment deficit steel industry and the employment income, and tax revenues Senator Vance Hartke, D-Ind., the impact of such imports upon the maintenance of equilibrium in the balance of international payments of the United States; and (4) the effect of efforts of the government to restrict the outflow of private capital upon the demand of steel products in foreign countries affected thereby.”

“In the first six months of this year,” Hartke declared, “steel mill imports from France, Italy and the Netherlands exceeded imports from these countries for all of 1964 at current steel prices and at the current annual rate of steel mill imports they will amount to a drain on the U. S. balance of payments of more than $1.25 billion this year.”

Serious Matter

“That is an extremely serious matter. In addition, economic contraction and rising unemployment in France and Britain threaten to divert increasing quantities of steel mill products to our country at prices below our own. If this trend continues, it presents a serious threat to the profitability of the steel industry, to employment, income and the very considerable tax revenues generated by the steel industry.”

“This calls for prompt and decisive counter measures. And the best way to begin is to ascertain all the facts. That is why I am introducing my resolution calling on the President to immediately initiate a comprehensive study.”

Meeting of Pope, President On U. S. Soil to be Milestone

Vatican Taking Growing Role In World Affairs, Problems

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The next U. S. chief executive to call on a Pope He saw John XXIII in the latter's private library in 1959, as Eisenhower began an 11-nation tour of Asia and Europe.

It will be the first encounter on American soil between a U. S. chief executive and a Roman Catholic pontiff. It will come at a time when the Vatican is taking a growing role in world affairs bringing it into diplomatic contact — if not actual diplomatic relations — with the U. S. government.

The subject of Vatican-Washington diplomatic ties will loom in the background although it may not figure directly in the conversations.

They will meet in the New York apartment of the U. S. ambassador to the United Nations, Arthur J. Goldberg.

Three Meetings

Popes and American presidents have met three times before, but always at the Vatican.

The first such meeting was between Woodrow Wilson and Pope Benedict XV Jan. 4, 1919. Wilson was in Europe for the Versailles peace treaty conference that formally ended World War I. Wilson and Pope Benedict conversed in English. The Pope praised the American president for his efforts to form the League of Nations.

During the 27-minute audience, Pope John said he rejoiced that the United States aspired toward the lofty ideals of a loyal and effective concord between nations. The Pope invoked “celestial blessings” for Americans. President Eisenhower expressed his thanks.

J. F. K. in 1963

John F. Kennedy met the present Pope July 2, 1963. They were together 50 minutes in the papal library and the pontiff said he would pray for Kennedy's efforts to end racial discrimination.

On the eve of that audience the Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano hinted that the Vatican would like closer ties with the United States.

The newspaper praised President Franklin D. Roosevelt's assignment of a personal representative to the Vatican in 1939 — and by implication suggested it would like to see a new envoy sent here.

Apparently, nothing ever came of the hint.

The State of Vatican City, as a sovereign county, has diplomatic relations with more than 50 nations.

Efforts to establish formal U. S.-Vatican diplomatic ties have always been controversial.

The United States established consular relations with the papacy in June 1797, at a time when the Pope ruled much of central Italy. These consular ties were maintained 73 years — until the papal states were incorporated into modern Italy and the papal temporal power was restricted to the 108 acres of Vatican City.

President James Polk recommended in 1847 the establishment of full diplomatic relations with the papacy, and Jacob L. Martin became U. S. chargé d'affaires to the papal state in April 1848. The diplomatic mission closed in 1867 when Congress withheld funds.

In 1939, President Roosevelt appointed Myron C. Taylor as his personal representative, with the rank of ambassador but without diplomatic status. Roosevelt said his idea was to facilitate adequate incomes, physical and mental health, and housing.

peace and the alleviation of suffering.”

Taylor served until 1950. The following year President Harry S. Truman nominated Gen. Mark W. Clark to be the first full-fledged U. S. Ambassador to the State of Vatican City. The White House said “the purpose of diplomacy and humanitarianism will be served by this appointment.”

A storm of criticism arose among American Protestants, and Clark asked that his name be withdrawn. No other envoy was named, and Truman let the idea drop.

Despite the lack of diplomatic relations, contact is maintained through the U. S. Embassy in Rome and the apostolic delegate in Washington.

Drop Count In Drug Case In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—One count of a 49-count indictment has been dropped against a Chicago physician who has administered Krebiozen, a drug taken by some cancer sufferers.

Phillips is one of four defendants in the U.S. District Court trial, charged with mail fraud and conspiracy in the sale and promotion of Krebiozen.

The count remains in effect against the other three defendants.

George Raft Fined $2,500 On Tax Count

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A federal judge fined actor George Raft $2,500 for income tax evasion and then said evidence indicate Raft would have been found innocent if he had fought the case.

Raft, 70, whose movie specialty was tough-guy roles, had pleaded guilty. He clutched his grandmother's rosary during the hour-long hearing Tuesday and then wept unashamedly after Judge Peirson M. Hall pronounced sentence.

Raft could have been fined $5,000 and imprisoned for three years.

The indictment alleged that Raft understated his income $85,000 from 1958 through 1963. The government dropped five counts after Raft pleaded guilty to a sixth.

Outside the courtroom, Raft held up a wine-colored rosary that he said was 105 years old and told newsmen: "God was with me — and so were these."

Friends Write

His attorney, Jerry Weber, said many of Raft's friends had written the judge asking for leniency. He said they included Bob Hope, Lucille Ball, Jimmy Durante, Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., Buzi Bavasi, general manager of the Los Angeles Dodgers and Frank Sinatra.

Tears came to Raft's eyes again when Sinatra was mentioned.

"Frank was the first to come to my help. He would do anything in the world to help me," Raft told newsmen.

Raft said he would begin work soon in New York and Italy on the movie "Diabolique," in which he plays a "patriotic gangster."

Lucey Named in $5,000 Damage Suit at Madison

MADISON (AP)—A suit filed in Circuit Court Tuesday seeks damages of $5,207 from Lt. Gov. Patrick J. Lucey and the Madison real estate firm he owns.

The action was brought by Vladimir Olchovko, who said he bought a house in Madison from the Lucey firm and later discovered part of the property encroached on land owned by the city.

The suit was filed on Olchovko's behalf by Carroll Metzner, a Madison attorney and Dane County Republican chairman. Lucey is expected to seek the Democratic nomination for governor in 1966.

The action claims Olchovko made repairs of $2,340 on the property before he learned of the alleged encroachment.

In Chippewa Falls where he is on a speaking tour, Lucey denied his firm concealed information and called the suit "a political rather than a legal matter."

contained plenty of water for those who stayed.

The Weather Bureau said the biggest problem may come Thursday or the day after when Debbie has sloshed inland and dumped up to 10 inches of rain on the flat farm and woodland of Florida, Georgia and Alabama.

Narrow Streams Small, narrow-bedded streams were expected to overrun their banks.

The Red Cross activated emergency offices in Mobile, Ala.; Pensacola, Panama City, Tallahassee, Tampa, and Perry, Fla.

But Debbie's poorly organized center remained offshore — and even stalled for a while — for hours Tuesday. All the time, the storm, already weak, was losing strength to a cold front over the mainland. She was not even powerful enough to have an eye.

Early today, Debbie was centered about 115 miles southwest of Mobile, Ala., and was drifting northward at 6 to 8 m.p.h.

Photographer Hit In Racial Fracas

CRAWFORDVILLE, Ga. (AP)—An attempt by Negroes to board school buses erupted into violence today when a white youth slugged a Negro photographer with his fists.

State troopers converged on the struggling pair quickly and separated them. The white youth was arrested. The unidentified Negro photographer was led away.

Some 20 state troopers at the scene prevented the Negroes from getting on the buses carrying white children to school in neighboring counties. The Negroes then left in cars for Greensboro and Warrenton where the school buses were taking the Tallapoosa County pupils.

Prison Farm Escapee Goes Back to Jail

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—James Szulcowski, of Milwaukee, a fugitive from a Lancaster County, Pa., prison farm, waived extradition Tuesday. He was turned over to Pennsylvania authorities, who left by car to return him to that state.

The 23-year-old prisoner, after waiving extradition before Judge Joseph L. Carter, was indicted by the Baltimore grand jury on charges of car theft and storehouse breaking.

Then, as he appeared before Judge Dulaney Foster in Criminal Court, the local charges were put on the inactive docket so Szulcowski could be turned over to Pennsylvania.

Szulcowski escaped from the Pennsylvania prison farm last Friday. He was apprehended Sunday night as he climbed from the window of a Baltimore automobile agency.

He was identified as the prisoner serving a sentence of 16 to 32 years for the wounding of two state troopers on the Pennsylvania Turnpike near Lancaster in the summer of 1964.
